U. S. SPURRED BY SINKING OF AMERICAN TANKER

FRENCH INFLICT SEVERE LOSSES ON ENEMY, IS PARIS CLAIM

Pursuing Allies Under Fire of Heavy Calibre Guns of Hindenburg

FIERCE FIGHTING ON AT SCORE OF POINTS

On British Front Resistance Of Teutons Stiffening All Along Line

PARIS, Mar. 23. — While fresh French forces pressed steadily forward at Aillette and north of Soissons, other masses of General Nivelle's forces inflicted a stinging defeat on the Germans north of St. Simon, driving them back with heavy losses to Grand Seraucourt.

Today's official statement, relating these facts of the day's progress against the retreating Germans, said the defeat had been very costly to the enemy.

"The Germans attacked and were defeated with heavy losses north of Saint Simon," the statement said. "They were driven back to Grand Seraucourt.

"It is confirmed that the German defeat on the front from Vregny to Chiares was very costly for them. An entire regiment was sent against one point without success."

ALLIES UNDER FIRE OF HEAVY TEUTON GUNS

LONDON, Mar. 23.—Pursuing British and French troops between the Somme and the Soissons are now encountering fire from big caliber German guns. The plain deduction is that the allies are nearing the "Hindenburg line," where permanent foundations for the big guns have long been prepared.

Front dispatches today indicated fierce fighting at a score of points along the line of the Franco-British pursuit. The French still lead in the chase, having apparently penetrated very close to Lafere in the face of greatly augmented opposition during the last twenty-four hours. They are likewise driving near to Laon, supposed to be another strategic point in the "Hindenburg line."

On the British front the German resistance is stiffening to a bitter engagement all along the line. Heretofore the British advance has been by cavalry, fast moving infantry and light field-pieces with machine guns. It was noted today, however, that front dispatches mentioned the bringing into action of heavy artillery, indicating a stand or an expected stand by the enemy.

FRENCHWOMEN FORCED TO WORK IN GERMANY, CLAIM

BY WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WITH THE BRITISH ARMIES IN THE FIELD, Mar. 23.—Not only did the Germans sweep that part of France they are relinquishing clear of homes, supplies and roads—but in many cases they swept it clear of its womanhood.

In some districts women between 15 and 50 were forced to go back into the interior of Germany. The inhabitants left behind were given to understand they are being forced to work for Germany.

At Rouy le Grand today I was told over 400 women and girls between those ages had thus been driven to the interior for work.

TEUTON GUNS ON FLANDERS COAST MORE ACTIVE

BERLIN, via Sayville Wireless, Mar. 23.—"On account of several advances of our own and of hostile reconnoitering detachments artillery activity on the coast of Flanders and in the Arras sectors was temporarily increased," declared today's official statement. "We took a number of prisoners.

"French troops, which on both sides of St. Simon had crossed the Somme and Crozat canal, were repulsed by an attack against and beyond these sectors. The enemy suffered sanguinary losses and lost 230 prisoners as well as several machine guns and carts.

"Between the Oise and the Aisne during the evening engagements developed west and south of Margival.

"Attacks of strong French forces were repulsed under heavy losses by fire and in counter attacks.

"Our artillery also in other places found advantageous aims in assembling and moving troops.

"On the forest of Laville aux Bois, a French attack, launched after strong fire, failed.

News o' the Day From City and County Tersely Told

Frank H. Thompson of Orange received a letter from New York telling of the illness of his aged mother and his sister, of his sister's husband falling and breaking a rib, of the death of his uncle and of the death of his brother, who was killed when he fell from a dry dock.

* * *

A little of mystery is connected with the origin of a tiny smoldering blaze discovered in the basement of the home of Mrs. Bessie McDonald, 506 South Birch street, today. In some way sparks dropped down from a heater in the kitchen and had the fire in the basement not been discovered when it was, serious damage might have resulted. An alarm was turned in, but the services of the firemen were not required.

Scarcity of well casing is beginning to worry oil operators in the Fullerton district. The situation is reported serious. The inability to get the necessary equipment has caused the Standard to shut down two wells on the Murphy lease.

Baseball contracts are reported to have been signed with the Weiser, Idaho, club of the Twilight League by Dan Lanfranco and Carid Arambel, fast semi-pro players of Orange, whose work is well known to fans in Orange county.

A mysterious Mexican who visited the scene shortly before the fire and who said he was a special agent of the Santa Fe, is believed to have knowledge of the origin of the blaze. He is being sought.

Sales of citrus property in Orange county continue. One of the latest deals to be reported is the sale of a 20-acre two-year-old orange grove south of Anaheim by William Black to Elmer Goodrich, of Anaheim. Seventeen thousand dollars was the price paid. A house on Zeyn street, Anaheim, was taken as part of the purchase price.

Buena Park is keeping in step with other sections of Orange county in the matter of improvements. J. F. Simpson is completing the work of setting out Valencias on six acres of his ranch. Sidewalks will be put down on Tenth street. The new bean warehouse of A. Nelson is being painted.

At a meeting at Brea Thursday night citizens of the Fullerton Union High School district will discuss the election of a trustee on April 6. The Citizens' committee of Brea issued the call for the meeting.

"When you find a knocker talking about there being no opportunities here and that this is only a land for rich men, ask him what he has now or what he ever has done toward grasping opportunities here." This is part of what E. Grant White of Chicago, one of the most noted criminal lawyers of the United States, said at a Board of Trade luncheon at Ananeim.

Summer is coming. A meeting of four members of the "9-9 Club" last night proves it. The four, Chris McNeill, Earl Glenn, Clem Beard and Victor Walker, mapped out plans for the overhauling of their launch, the "9-9," preparatory to this season's deep-sea fishing campaign.

A new residence is being built in Brea canyon by H. O. Butler, an old-time oil man of that section.

Again it must be said that real estate deals continue. Five acres of Valencia and walnut land on West Commonwealth avenue, Fullerton, have been sold by T. S. Virdin to J. N. Swain for $9000.

The Brea board of trustees has passed three more ordinances to their second reading. The office of city recorder was created by one ordinance. A second provides for the city making its own assessments this year and a third is an occupation license ordinance, specifying that the license must be paid by the year in advance.

* * *

Members of the merchants' division of the Fullerton Board of Trade in a meeting failed to make changes in the projected occupation license ordinance of Fullerton and it is likely that it will be taken before the Fullerton trustees in its present form.

An action brought by Miss Amy Mendatte against Lewis and Canfield, former owners of the Fullerton Laundry, and others, will be heard Tuesday by a referee of the State Industrial Accident Commission at Fullerton. Miss Mendatte caught her hand in a mangle and incurred a painful injury.

According to a decision given by Justice Inskeep, Fullerton, the unintentional omission of a name from a clause in an insurance policy does not invalidate the policy.

J. A. Hankey, one of the first men to go into the automobile business in Santa Ana, believes that if the United States gets into a war with Germany, one of the first attempts to be made by Germany will be to destroy "strategic avenues of communication between different portions of this country." Hankey has written a letter to this effect to a Los Angeles paper, which printed it. Hankey urges that the railroads place guards on their important bridges. He says in his letter:

"To demolish the bridges spanning the Colorado and a few railroad tunnels would isolate Southern California and hamper communications with the entire Pacific Coast."

BUENOS AIRES, Mar. 23.—South America is apprehensive that entrance of the United States into the war may seriously affect its finances. From high sources in Argentine today the belief was expressed that such a step by the United States—now regarded as certain—would result in concentration of American money into war measures and result in a curtailment of foreign loans, except to the allies fighting against Germany.

STEPHENS URGES COAST CITIZEN ARMY AS AID TO DEFENSE

Patriotism, Preparedness Are Keynotes of Governor's Joint Session Message

SACRAMENTO, March 23.—Urging a strong mobile army of Coast citizens and other defense measures, Governor William D. Stephens today made patriotism and preparedness the keynotes of a message to a joint session of the Legislature.

Governor Stephens said that the safety of California is in danger. In his address he said in part:

"Our beloved republic is in imminent danger of being drawn into the great war. If this cannot be averted, California's safety will be imperilled."

The Governor quoted from military reports showing that it would be difficult to bring troops to California for defense in case of invasion and urged preparation for the support of coast defenses by the organization of a strong mobile army to be made up of citizens of the Pacific Coast.

The need of coast highways as a measure to aid in defending the state in case of hostilities was pointed out by the Governor.

The suggestion was made by the Governor that a state training camp be organized and that the legislature pass an emergency appropriation for this purpose.

A system of rural credits was urged by Governor Stephens, as was also legislation to prevent speculation in foodstuffs.

In his message the Governor reiterated his sympathy with former Governor Hiram Johnson.

CHICAGO SWEPT BY PATRIOTIC WAVE

CHICAGO, March 23.—A wave of patriotism is sweeping this city. Peace talk has ended, and every new German outrage but adds to the impetus of the warlike sentiment. The railroads are organizing to move troops.

R.'" and even feels kindly toward him. Schrank has no relatives and no friends. He is destined to remain here while he lives. He is a house painter by trade. He imagines he is a great philosopher and that he will die famous.

Wilson Personally Directing Work Of Preparing For War

At Least a Score Died When Healdton Was Sunk, Word Today At London

13 Survivors Are Landed At Ymuiden, Holland, Advices Indicate

GALVESTON, Mar. 23.—Officers of a Norwegian steamer arriving here today report that thousands of Germans have entered Mexico through Guatemala with the acknowledged intention of forming an army for war on the United States.

BY ROBERT J. BENDER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, March 23.—Germany's latest affront in the torpedoing without warning of the American tanker Healdton will be answered by continued speeding up of all preparations for actual hostilities which are now regarded as inevitable.

President Wilson and Secretary Lansing are convinced that Germany's present course is merely hastening a clash. The President and his premier are known from the highest and most authoritative sources to have held the firm conviction—even before the sinking of the Healdton—that the Kaiser's government is determined on forcing a declaration of war from this country.

President Wilson met with the cabinet today to consider developments in the international situation and to discuss the progress made by all departments in preparing for hostilities.

There is indication today that the President, after Congress has defined the status between Germany and the United States, will augment his cabinet by one or more posts to cover the work of transportation and possibly a portfolio to handle the work of munitions making.

This, however, is entirely tentative. The more likely course for the present, at least, is believed to be the continuance of the National Defense Council as a special advisory body in preparing for war.

Wilson Directs Work

Government activity embraces such a wide range now that no accurate conception can actually be drawn as to the scope or effectiveness of the country's preparedness work. President Wilson is personally directing all of these war preparations.

Secretary Baker as chairman of the National Defense Council is preparing to meet heads of great industrial concerns to discuss what work is necessary to complete tentative plans to place the country on a war footing.

Secretary of the Navy Daniels is directing his efforts to stimulate recruiting and hurry warship construction.

While the Navy Department bends every energy toward making that arm of the service more effective than ever before, the War Department continues its more or less secret steps toward calling to arms every regular, reserve and national guardsmen when the moment to sound the call is propitious. All possible haste that is compatible with efficiency is being taken in regard to gathering of supplies—guns, ammunition, clothing, quartermaster supplies, etc.

Militia Data Expected

Within a few days at most, it is expected data from state heads regarding militia available, plans for rapid mobilization of the National Guard, details for stationing and distribution of land forces, will be complete.

Beneath the surface activities, official attention turned today to a conference reported under way at imperial German grand headquarters which will be attended by the Kaiser, von Hindenburg and Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg, ostensibly to plan more aggressive lnad and sea war moves by Teuton forces.

This conference may have a vital effect upon Germany's future policies.

The one ray of hope in the dark situation is that Germany may be forced into an early peace. The administration believed today it had successfully headed off any neutral mediation move by declaring in advance against such a step.

No Mediation Offer

The State Department officially declared today that it had not received an offer of mediation to head off war between the United States and Germany. The discouragement which Secretary Lansing and other officials heaped upon the project yesterday probably will prevent any neutral from formally offering mediation services.

Suggestions still credited to the Swiss minister a hand in spreading the pro-German mediation story, but there was also some suggestion today that the administration itself might have "inspired" the report and squelched it as a warning to neutrals not to interfere.

S. F. GIRL FLIER OFFERS SERVICES TO U. S.

SAN FRANCISCO, Mar. 23.—Miss Jean Doty, 18, aviatrix, has telegraphed an offer of her services as an air pilot to President Wilson and says that if he does not accept she will make an effort to join the army reserve aviation corps.

AT LEAST SCORE DIED ON HEALDTON

LONDON, Mar. 23.—At least a score perished in the unwarned sinking by a German submarine of the Standard Oil tanker Healdton, according to latest information available here today. The ship was torpedoed five miles north of Terschelling, Holland, in the middle of what has heretofore been announced by Germany as one of the "safety zones" in the barred area. Thirteen survivors have been landed at Ymuiden, Holland, of a total of more than forty on board the vessel.

One Holland dispatch today quoted survivors as declaring that three life boats left the sinking Healdton. Two of these, one with seven men and a second with thirteen, were picked up. The third, reported to contain twenty-one men, is still missing.

Not all of the Healdton's crew were Americans and it is not stated in Holland dispatches whether those missing were citizens of the United States. Some dispatches from Ymuiden declared at least a dozen men had been killed or injured by the explosion of the torpedo which sank the Healdton.

NEW ARCTIC BLOCKADE IS INSTITUTED

CHRISTIANIA, Mar. 23.—The foreign office received official notification today that Germany had instituted a blockade of the Arctic ocean between Norway and Spitzbergen.

The new blockade is manifestly aimed to prevent shipments to the Russian port of Archangel, which will be free of ice within a few months and which has always been a great center of import for Russia.

NEBRASKA SALOONS TO BE BANNED BY COFFEE HOUSES, CHURCH PLAN

LINCOLN, Mar. 23.—Religious societies in Nebraska towns and cities are planning to open coffee houses to take the place of the saloons, which will be banished by edict of the voters May 1.

Omaha churches will try out the coffee house idea and if it is successful they will scatter a number of them all over the city. The plan is to make the coffee house a social club for laboring men such as they now have in the saloon. Coffee and sandwiches are to be furnished cheap and the men encouraged to make the places clubrooms.

JITNEY BILL FRAMED AS COMPROMISE WILL PASS, IS EXPECTATION

SACRAMENTO, March 23—The bill framed by the state railroad commission is expected to be passed as a compromise between the jitney and auto stage forces and the transportation corporations. Under this bill the motor bus operators outside of incorporated territory would be put under the jurisdiction of the railroad commission, while those within would be subject to local regulation.

RETIRED NAVAL OFFICERS ARE RECALLED TO FILL DEMAND IN CRISIS

Shipbuilders to Meet In Effort to Cut Time Needed to Build Destroyers

ALL RESOURCES TO BE USED IN SPEED PLAN

'Hornet Fleet' to Be Built As Soon As Possible, Is Word At Capital

WASHINGTON, Mar. 23.—The navy has recalled into active service large numbers of retired officers, Secretary Daniels announced today.

The utter inadequacy of officers for the big naval program's needs is responsible for the new order.

A conference of American shipbuilders will be held tomorrow in an effort to reduce the time in the construction of destroyers and to mobilize all resources for this construction. An extreme effort will be made to build these destroyers in from ten to fifteen months instead of from twenty to twenty-four as heretofore.

While fifteen destroyers have been specifically ordered Secretary Daniels today announced that the Navy Department will order as many more as can be built in time to meet the present crisis. In addition, a "hornet fleet" of submarine chasers, motorboats, etc., will be built as soon as possible.

NEW RUSS GOVERNMENT IS GIVEN RECOGNITION BY ALL ALLY NATIONS

LONDON, Mar. 23.—Full recognition was accorded the new Russian government by action of all the allies today.

PETROGRAD, Mar. 23.—The last of the Romanoffs was under detention at Tsargoe-Selo today, his guards bearing the red banner of the Russian democracy. The former czar, the czarina, the royal couples' only son and their four daughters are now housed in the palace. Every deference has been shown all these members of the former royal family.

Formal granting of recognition to the provisional government by the United States was a cause for public rejoicing throughout Petrograd today.

STEAMER ASHORE OFF BRITISH COLUMBIA; PASSENGERS ARE SAFE

WOOLEN SHIRTS FOR OFFICE WEAR GAINING IN VOGUE, L. A. WORD

LOS ANGELES, March 23—It makes no difference if it isn't swell; the woolen shirt is being worn more and more by men employed in offices, declares a North Main street clothier.

And there's one redeeming feature which offsets anything ungainly in its appearance, this merchant declares—it saves laundry bills.

Another swat for the high cost of living.

SON OF LEO TOLSTOY GETS S. F. CHANCE TO SHINE IN VAUDEVILLE

SAN FRANCISCO, Mar. 23.—Count Llya Tolstoy, son of the late Count Leo Tolstoy, is scheduled to begin a tryout in vaudeville here day after tomorrow. If he is more successful in this than he was in his attempt to make a speech at Columbia University, he will receive $1,000 a week for forty weeks on the circuit. He will have a tryout of one week to see how he "takes" with the vaudeville patrons. The row the Count had with Dr. Butler of Columbia over his socialistic arguments, which resulted in his being forbidden to appear at Columbia, is what got him the vaudeville engagement.

POLY MAIDS PLAN FUND TO ASSIST WORTHY GIRLS IN COLLEGE

Entertainments to Be Given In Order to Secure Needed Resources

The "Girls' League" of the Santa Ana High School recently organized for the purpose of correcting the impression that the girls of the school were frivolous and attend school more for pleasure than to learn, has gone a step further and is now organizing a fund with which to assist worthy and conscientious girls of the school in securing a college education.

It will be operated along the lines of a free scholarship in a higher institution of learning similar to that which has been in vogue in the school under the management of the faculty.

The fund will be created through the giving of entertainments and other money-making schemes. Voluntary contributions will not be asked for and no system of dues will be inaugurated. Full details of the method of securing the fund and award of assistance have not yet been fully worked out.

To Create More Interest

The idea is to create a greater interest in the school work and in school activities and the student who attains the highest marks through the school year will be rewarded for her efforts by an award of whatever amount of money might be available in the fund at the conclusion of the school year.

There are many ambitious students who desire to carry their pursuit of knowledge to the universities whose parents haven't the means to give them all the advantages of the higher branches of learning without embarrassing themselves. When the fund is fully established, the conscientious and worthy student who attains the highest mark will be given a scholarship in the university in which she chooses to continue her studies. The first year or two the assistance of the league may amount only to $15 or $20, depending on the success of the plans for accumulating the fund.

The organization of the league has had a most beneficial effect on the action of the students, and has already demonstrated that it was a good move.

Mannerisms Eliminated

Mannerisms on the street and at school which caused considerable unfavorable comment from the public have been almost entirely eliminated, it is asserted.

The greatest interest is being manifested in the organization. The school management has assigned the league an office, and this has been equipped by the girls with desk and other equipment. The cabinet meets here and members are at liberty to go to the office at any time for consultation with members of the cabinet or other officers of the league.

Miss Helen Walker, president of the league, is delighted with the success of the organization, for it has brought about a greater co-operation among the girls and has been effective in results towards the elimination of features which have caused the criticism of the school.

HUNT FOR $250,000 PAINTINGS STOLEN IN SPAIN IS NATIONWIDE

NEW YORK, Mar. 23.—Paintings by old masters, valued at more than $250,000, stolen from the Athanaeum, at Santander, Spain, when that place burned last January 10, are believed by Baron de Quinto, their owner, to have been smuggled into the United States and hidden.

Baron de Quinto, aided by the police of many cities, started a nation-wide search for the paintings today. Among the stolen works are Van Dyck's "Portrait of the Duke of Richmond," Titian's "Venus and Adonis" and Valasquez's "The Disciples of Emmaeus." The Spanish ambassador may seek federal aid if the local searches fail.

SALT LAKE LINE IS OPPOSED AT VILLA PARK

That the Salt Lake may expect no consideration in the form of shipments if it forces its right of way through the productive orange groves of the Villa Park section, is intimated by parties who own properties in that vicinity through which surveys have already been run. Considerable opposition is being developed. Mrs. I. Lee Collins is one of the property owners who will be up in arms against the company if it attempts to force a right of way through her place. Lines have been run through her property by surveyors. Several pieces of valuable orange property would be left in bad shape should the peliminary survey lines be followed.

STIR IS CAUSED BY CANDIDACY OF WOMAN

The candidacy of Miss Sue Scarritt of Orange, just announced, for election as a member of the Orange Union High School Board, threatens to create some little stir in the district. She aspires to be D. P. Crawford's successor, his term expiring. Crawford was elected from the Olive district, but has since moved to Orange. It has long been the custom to give the outside districts representation on the board. Olive, Villa Park and El Modena have named one member each and Orange two.

Should Miss Scarritt be elected to succeed Crawford, Orange would have three representatives on the board and Olive none.

C. A. Palmer, of Olive, has been suggested as a candidate from the Olive district.

Ream Bill Seeking Co. Road Engineers Same As Finley's

Del Norte Assemblyman Plans Fight On Floor For Measure; Local Supervisor Has Agreed to Let His Own Bill Die Natural Death, Writes Stephenson

BY T. E. STEPHENSON
(Special to the Register)

SACRAMENTO, Mar. 21.—In Assemblyman H. B. Ream of Del Norte, Supervisor S. H. Finley has a man who is exactly after his own heart, so far as the management of county roads is concerned. The Santa Anan's plan for having all of the county roads of a county placed under a competent engineer, who shall have full charge of every county road, is a familiar one in Orange county. The colonel made his campaign partly upon that issue, and since he was elected he has brought the matter up in various ways before the Board of Supervisors. He has stood one against four on that board.

Under that plan, the present system of control of county road work, each supervisor for his own district with the work being done under the supervision of the individual supervisor and the road bosses under him, would be done away with.

Assemblyman Ream has Col. Finley matched at every turn. While Col. Finley was sending a bill to Assemblyman Burke with the request that it be introduced, carrying the endorsement of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce and some other similar organizations of Orange county, Ream had a bill already introduced that outlined the same plan.

To Push Ream Bill

Ream and Col. Finley have since had some correspondence on the subject, and it has been agreed that Ream's bill will be pushed, and Finley's will die a natural death.

"I believe my bill has a chance of going through and becoming law," said Ream today. "I am not making any special fight for it, however. I mean by that that I am not importuning my friends to vote for it. I am going on the floor of the Assembly, however, and make a fight for it. I am going to amend it by fixing the salaries for every county road engineer for every county in the state. I think that will be necessary in order to prevent a county from fixing a salary so low that the law will become inoperative."

I asked a number of other legislators what they thought of the likelihood of Ream's bill passing, and from them came definite statements that they did not believe the bill was at all likely to pass.

Former Football Manager

Among those I bumped into was State Senator William Scott of San Francisco. This Scott, by the way, was manager of the old professional football team at Fresno some twelve or thirteen years ago on which Burt Stephenson of El Toro played fullback. Fred Scott, a brother of Bill, was quarterback on that team, and two years ago he was assemblyman from Tulare county.

"What was the matter with Fred?" I asked. "How came it that they licked him for re-election."

"Fred fathered a county engineer bill," said the state senator, exactly the same proposition that Assemblyman Ream has got up now. That bill did not listen very well down around Tulare, and when Fred ran for re-election they got him. That is why he is not back in the legislature."

All of which may be pertinent to the general opinion among legislators that Ream's bill is not going to see any necks cracked in the rush to get behind it.

Visual Educational Bills Bid Fair to Become Laws

Special to the Register.

BY J. E. DONALDSON OF THE FULLERTON HIGH SCHOOL FACULTY.

SACRAMENTO, Mar. 20.—It has been impossible for me to find the time to write a word of my impressions of Sacramento until this minute. I went up there to see if it would be pssible to have enacted into law three bills relating to the question of visual education in the schools of California. The Visual Education Association of California, of which I have the honor to be a member, has been striving for the last four years for financial assistance in making the motion picture, stereopticon, stereograph, and other visual aids in education a reality. Two years ago we succeeded in having a law passed that would authorize the establishment of a state bureau under the State Board of Education. The bill was not signed by the governor for what seemed to him good reasons—that is to say, the money was needed elsewhere. We then came back to Los Angeles county and were successful in getting the county Board of Supervisors to set aside a fund for the establishment of a county bureau which is now in successful operation.

We have come to the conclusion that the work should be undertaken not only by a state bureau, but also by a county bureau in those counties especially interested as most of the counties of the southern part of the state are, and to this end we have introduced three bills: Assembly Bill 502, providing for a county visual education fund to be levied in a special tax by the Board of Supervisors when in their judgment it is advisable and expended by the County Board of Education in the county and by the City Board of Education in those cities having a Board of Education and superintendent of schools. This bill seems assured of passage to the Governor. It is essential that those interested in his signing it should let him know their views on the matter; and Assembly Bills 503 and 505, providing for the state bureau under the State Board of Education to work in conjunction with the county bureaus and thus properly co-ordinate the work and avoid needless duplication of expenditure for this purpose. Bill 505 carries the appropriation to make 503 effective and it is very essential that the friends of visual education should write their senator or representative and inform him of their wishes in this matter.

It would not be just to Assemblyman Burke of Santa Ana to close this communication without saying that it is largely due to his energetic help that bill 502 is so far along on its way to final passage. In fact it was a great pleasure to find that the Orange County assemblyman is rapidly becoming one of the strong men of the Assembly. If he fails to answer your letters do not impute it to a lack of interest on his part, but to the simple fact that he is one of the unfortunate few who cannot always find a stenographer to take dictation.

MY TIRED FEET ACHED FOR "TIZ"

Let Your Sore, Swollen, Aching Feet Spread Out In a Bath of "Tiz"

Just take your shoes off and then put those weary, shoe-crinkled, aching, burning, corn-pestered, bunion-tortured feet of yours in a "Tiz" bath. Your toes will wriggle with joy; they'll look up at you and almost talk and then they'll take another dive in that "Tiz" bath.

When your feet feel like lumps of lead—all tired out—just try "Tiz." It's grand—glorious. Your feet will dance with joy; also you will find all pain gone from corns, callouses and bunions.

There's nothing like "Tiz." It's the only remedy that draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up your feet and cause foot torture.

Get a 25-cent box of "Tiz" at any drug or department store—don't wait. Ah! how glad your feet get; how comfortable your shoes feel. You can wear shoes a size smaller if you desire.—Advertisement.

WOMAN EXPERT TELLS HOW TO DETERMINE IF INFANT IS NORMAL

BY MRS. MAX WEST
(Of the Federal Children's Bureau)
(Written for the United Press)

Mothers always like to know whether their children compare favorably with others in their development; and to have some standards by which to measure growth. Some of these rules are simple and are easily remembered.

The average weight of girl babies at birth is 7 pounds; that of boys 7½. Healthy babies usually double their weight by the sixth month and treble it by the end of the first year. Therefore if the baby weighs 21 pounds at 1 year of age it is up to normal.

The first tooth is usually cut from the sixth to the eighth month. The full set of twenty milk teeth should be in place when the baby is two years old. The "sixth year molar," as it is called, is the first of the permanent teeth to appear, but as it does not replace one of the first teeth mothers allow it to decay because they believe it to be a temporary tooth.

The baby begins to laugh aloud from the third to the fifth month, and speaks a few words by the end of the first year. He usually frames short sentences by the time he is two years old.

Baby should sit up unsupported a little while by the seventh or eighth month, stand at ten or eleven months and walk alone by the fifteenth or sixteenth. The soft spot on the top of the head should be entirely closed by the end of the second year.

When the war came everyone in the clothing business thought that wool would go up. The makers of Styleplus Clothes $17 on account of their extensive advertising were duty bound to keep on supplying the public with "all wool fabrics, expert tailoring, the skill of a great designer," at the known price $17—provided there was any way on earth to do it.

What happened? These makers bought woolens and linings in tremendous quantity. They kept on advertising "the price remains the same." Volume doubled, manufacturing costs dropped because of the increased production—new efficiency and new economies came to light through the "necessity of the hour."

Incidently, the makers as well as ourselves have been content with a smaller profit in order to keep your price the same.

MEETING TONIGHT STIRS SEAL BEACH

SEAL BEACH, Mar. 23.—Citizens of this city today are greatly interested in a meeting which will be held tonight to hear J. P. Transue's open reply to a widely circulated letter setting forth Mayor J. H. Blagge's position in the recent controversy here.

A recall petition has recently been circulated against Blagge, on a charge that he adjourned a meeting without parliamentary precedure, although it is said that other reasons prompted the action.

NATIONAL CONFERENCE ON CHILD LABOR ON AT BALTIMORE TODAY

BALTIMORE, Mar. 23.—Child labor opponents from all over the United States met here today for the Thirteenth annual conference on Child Labor.

One of the important features of the conference will be a discussion of how much of an obstacle child labor is to social reform. This question will be discussed by B. Howell Griswold of Baltimore, Miss Julia C. Lathrop of the Federal Children's Bureau at Washington, Dr. D. Carlos de Pena, minister from Uruguay, and Miss Anna Davis.

SENATOR WORKING OUT NEW TRUST BUSTING METHOD AT CAPITAL

SACRAMENTO, Mar. 23.—A new method of attacking trusts is being worked out under the direction of Chairman William Kehoe of the Senate Judiciary committee. The present legal machinery for this purpose is admitteuly inadequate. This bill now is being prepared and is along lines suggested by Charles Wesley Reed and Mrs. W. T. Cleverdon of the Berkeley committee on the High Cost of Living and is patterned after the Clayton act passed by Congress.

CITY MANAGER IDEA SPREADING

Equity, a Philadelphia Magazine devoted to governmental improvement, says that more than 550 municipalities in the United States have already adopted the commission, commission-manager, limited council or variations of these new forms of government in the search for increased efficiency in the conduct of public affairs. In answer to a questionaire sent out by Equity, signed reports have been received from 449 municipalities, furnishing a body of facts from all sections of the country. The facts are almost all in the direction of greater efficiency of administration as a result of the concentration of powers in small bodies of officials elected to represent the community and each member of which is wholly responsible for a definite share or department of the government. The reports invariably testify to the important improvements obtained for the community together with numerous and striking economies.

"One of the most noticeable features disclosed by our investigation," says Equity, "is the trend toward the manager idea, over ninety municipalities having moved in this direction. But wherever the commission-manager plan is adopted all the greater need is felt for the powers of direct popular control. While it is true that the commission remains the policy-determining body and is held directly responsible to the voters for the success or failure of a given administration, still it is found in practice that a successful manager must come into pretty close contact with the people of the community as an administrator. In this way the manager seems to embody, and so far as administration is concerned does embody, the idea of greater concentration of authority. But when it is seen that this authority has nothing to do with changes in policy, and that the commission which employs the manager is itself subject to the recall, or its legislative policy subject to the initiative and referendum, the people are able to understand that while they are getting greater efficiency of administration they thus remain in constant control of their government."

BEER OR BREAD?

For weeks past the country has been agitated from one border to the other on the question of food distribution and food prices. The high cost of living is making life itself almost prohibitive. The liquor traffic is in large measure responsible. It is a raid on the American pantry. All the elements that enter into food prices are deleteriously affected by the liquor trade. Take, for example, raw material. Alcohol cannot be made except by destroying carbohydrate foods, such as sugar and starch, and while sugar is mounting to 15 cents a pound the liquor traffic is consuming each year enough sugar to supply the entire country for thirty days. We are taking sugar from the mouths of babies to enrich the brewers. A vast amount of labor is wasted in producing, transporting and distributing alcoholic beverages. It is estimated that the muscular man-power expended, not in making, but merely in handling, the output of the liquor factories is sufficient to set up and pull down the great Pyramid of Egypt nine times a year, although it took 100,000 men a generation to build it.

The papers have been reciting in flaming headlines the stories of food riots in New York because of a car shortage, but the liquor trade uses the equivalent of three thousand trains of 200 tons each year. It wastes millions of cubic feet of space in our export and import shipping; crowds our docks; fills our freight cars, crowding out of them articles of food. The labor efficiency-loss each year to America because of drink is equivalent to the entire nation standing idle for thirty days.

In these times of high taxes and high prices every dollar wasted buys misery for large parts of our population, and all this is saying nothing of the vice, crime, disease, sorrow, and pain resulting from the drink traffic.

The question is, "Shall American women and children be underfed that American men may be full beered?"

Dr. Enocha, phone 602W, 411½ Main.

WHAT THE ADAMSON LAW MEANS

The Labor Unions Win and Lose

(FROM THE FRESNO REPUBLICAN)

In the decision affirming the validity of the Adamson eight-hour bill, it seems very probable that the labor unions have won the battle and lost the war. They have got the eight-hour wage standard for which they contended, but they have got it by a decision which would have given the government equal authority to decide against them and to enforce its decision on them. Under this decision the railroads of the country must run, and neither the managers, representing the owners, nor the unions, representing the workers, can stop them. If they can agree without strike, the decision implies that this agreement is not to be disturbed by law. But there must be an agreement and a wage standard. If the immediate parties can not reach that agreement or fix that standard, then the Federal government has the right to do it and to enforce this standard on whatever side is unwilling to accept it. In this particular case, up to within a few hours of the announcement of the decision, the railroad managers had been the unwilling side. But in the next case, the labor unions will likely be the unwilling side, and the power of Congress is equally binding on them.

From the standpoint of the public interest and of the ultimate responsibility to the public of all combinations, both of capital and labor, this is an important advance. But from the standpoint of the traditional doctrine of the labor unions, it is a fatal defeat. Their doctrine has been that the right to strike is as unconditional as the individual right to quit work, and that both are absolute and beyond the control of any law or power whatever. It has been their principle that they would rather lose a strike than to win it by the exercise of a governmental authority which in another case might be used against them. Now, by the decision of the highest court in the United States, from which there is no appeal, this theory is permanently abrogated. Henceforward a general strike on the railroads of the United States is impossible. If the employers and the employes can not agree, Congress has the right and the obvious duty to interpose a compulsory method of determining the case and to enforce the determination reached on either side, including the labor side. If this principle is put into effect, it means, not the end of labor unionism, but the end of the particular sort of labor unionism which we have had. For our part, we think it will introduce a better because more responsible sort of unionism. But from the standpoint of those who have been conducting the contests of union labor, the winning of this one battle has lost the war.

We Must See It Through

(FROM THE FRESNO REPUBLICAN)

By the act of President Wilson in calling Congress two weeks earlier than he had intended, the nation is practically committed to a formal declaration that war has existed between Germany and the United States since last Sunday, and apparently the only question now open is whether Germany will precipitate that war within the next two days or whether the United States will have two weeks to precipitate it. Even this question is not important, since if any belligerent act were physically possible by Germany within the two weeks, the precedents of recent wars indicate that there would be no hesitation to commit such an act on account of any mere lack of formal declaration.

The European countries are all now debating whether the "morale" of themselves and their allies or enemies will hold out. By "morale" they mean the resoluteness of the whole people to keep on seeing the war through, no matter what the cost to themselves in money or suffering.

In Germany it is the question whether the people will still be determined to fight when they are hungry themselves all the time, when their children begin to die, and when to actual physical hunger is added the new mental disease known as "starvation fear," which is spreading in many localities in Germany. In England the question means whether the English people will continue to be resolute in war when they all have to be on short rations of food and clothing, when even their present small fraction of personal liberty is destroyed, and when taxes go so high that the average man of means will have to pay fully half of his total income in taxes every year.

If America gets into the war, no one can tell how long it will last or the ramifications it will develop and how much it will cost. And Americans, except under the stress of excitement or very imminent danger, are not noted for this particular sort of "morale." They get bored too easily, and they tend to quit a job half finished for no better reason than that it has ceased to be interesting. If this war into which we are entering, instead of stopping this summer through some sudden coup, should go on until we are as deeply involved in it as the European nations are now, would America's "morale" still continue when almost every family had a vacant chair, when all business was disrupted, when individual liberty, especially in the petty and therefore precious things, had disappeared, and when the average taxpayer of means had to pay taxes at least ten times higher than the highest taxes he ever complained of in the past?

The whole nation will hope that this test is never to come. But unless we are able to live up to this test in the final struggle of war, we have no right to begin the war. For unless we have the resoluteness and character to sustain even this test, we are staking our national life on the lucky chance of a short and easy war. This may be in fact what we get. Prospects for the moment seem more than ever favorable to this conclusion. But unless we are ready to see this war through at its worst, if that should come, we have no right to take the fatal step now; or, rather, since that step is now unescapable, we had no right to take the preliminary steps of which this final step is the inevitable outcome.

WITH MALICE TOWARD NONE

A Body Blow

Hot dogs, so called, are to be doubled in price, and there is mourning along the beaches.

If you don't know what hot dog is this column is unable to inform you. it is an edible supposed to be swallowed hot, both with fire and condiments. It is stuffed into receptacles so considerately furnished by the inner workings of pigs, but as to its precise composition, only the composer knows, and the chances are that he wouldn't tell. No matter, anyhow. The point is that hot dog is going up, a circumstance likely to interfere with its usual habit of going down.

The excuse is that every ingredient of hot dog is higher in price than formerly, that the mustard that renders it savory is aways up there and still rising, and that even the paper bag in which it is purveyed costs double the old figure.

Of course the war in Europe was bound to enhance the price of mustard and other material used in making munitions, but the calamity of it all is getting through the intelligence. Hot dogs have jumped and hit us a body blow.

Several senators have been hanged in effigy lately.

Most of them have been in the air before this, however.

One puzzle of diplomacy is that after "the last word" the diplomat talks right along.

Perhaps he gets so in the habit of talking that his vocal apparatus operates automatically.

Instead of being told that they cannot have any information concerning the army and navy, newspaper men have been requested not to print anything that could be harmful to the country.

Protecting Women

The British government has requested women subjects who may be in this country to stay here. An exception is made of young women who "must either get back to their own people for support or seek an ignoble livelihood in the streets of New York."

That's a pretty hard slam at New York. Is it no longer possible for the young woman to earn a living by methods not ignoble?

If women are to be protected by taking them out of New York by way of the war zone, their situation must be regarded as desperate.

The kaiser has promised immortality to the late Count Zeppelin.

Immortality, however, is something that has been promised to all of us and by an authority generally reckoned higher than the kaiser's.

It is thus that the west gets a little casual benefit from the war.

A most delightful four-course one o'clock luncheon was given yesterday by Mrs. I. D. Mills of Orange and Mrs. F. J. Rogers of Santa Ana at the home of Mrs. Mills, 259 North Orange street, Orange.

The menu consisted of chicken boullion, wafers, chicken pates, mashed potatoes, peas, pickles, hot biscuit, fruit salad, lemon cream pie, coffee, mints. Mrs. T. A. Winbigler and Mrs. E. F. Caldwell, daughters of Mrs. Mills, assisted in serving.

TEUTON MENACE TO U. S. CRAFT IS RUMORED IN BRAZIL

In Case of War Merchantmen of Germans Might Raid Yankee Shipping

BY H. B. ROBERTSON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

RIO DE JANERO, March 1 (by mail)—There are twenty-eight German merchantmen interned in this and other Brazilian ports today which, rumor has it, would become raiders of American shipping in case of war between the United States and Germany.

These ships total about 110,000 tons and are valued at $4,000,000. Half of them are in this port and the others scattered about other Brazilian ports.

With two exceptions all these ships are at liberty to put to sea at any time. Ever since Brazil's protest to Germany over the submarine blockade, attention has been focused on the German ships by persistent stories that several of the interned steamers were waiting a favorable moment to make their escape.

Anchored in an open part of the bay, well under the surveillance of the harbor's forts and the Brazilian fleet, these fourteen ships form a listless and desolate group.

Ships Interned

Of the ships interned here the "Sierra Salvada" is the largest with 4,951 tons net register. The others are the "Edenberg" (2,782 tons), "Cap Roca" (3,690 tons), "Coburg" (4,200 tons), "Hohenstaufen" (4,086 tons), "Roland" (4,255 tons), "Henriette" (1,921 tons), "Alrich" (4,265 tons), "Carl Woermann" (3,490 tons), "Posen" (4,094 tons), "Etruria" (2,885 tons), and the "Franklin" (3,223 tons).

Besides these there were the "Muansa" (3,733 tons), which entered on August 19, 1914, but sailed a few days later for Buenos Aires and is at present interned in Chile, and the "Prussia" which entered August 20, sailed for Santos five days later and did not arrive at that point for a month in spite of the fact that it was a day's trip. An inquiry undertaken by port authorities for the purpose of finding the cause of this mysterious month's disappearance did not establish any definite results. It's an easy guess, however, that the "Prussia" did not risk capture by British cruisers on a mere pleasure trip and that some raider ship benefitted in suppiles during her disappearance.

Goes Into Open

Another ship that broke the monotony of internment by venturing into the open was the "Edenberg," which after twenty days of lying idle sailed for Santos, where she never arrived. One month later the "Edenberg" returned calmly to Rio, dropped her anchor and landed the crew and passengers of the "Indian Prince" which had been sunk by the German cruiser "Kronprinz Wilhelm," which itself interned later in a North American port. For this venture the "Edenberg" was ordered under guard by the Brazilian government.

Outside of the "Prussia" and the "Edenberg" any of the interned German ships have the right to leave the harbor at will.

BABY WEEK PLANS THIS YEAR HUGE

WASHINGTON, March 20—Plans to make Baby Week celebrations throughout the country this year from May 1 to May 6, a huge educational movement for the reduction of mortality among women at child-birth are under way at the Children's Bureau of the Department of Labor today.

Baby Week celebrations in the past have been directed more toward reducing infant mortality. The fact, however, that 15,000 mothers are dying annually from conditions incident to child-birth has opened up an even greater problem, the Bureau announced. Ignorance and neglect are the prime causes of this high mortality.

"Many women," one official at the Bureau said, "do not seem to realize how much their own health and the health of their children depends on the intelligent care of the mother before her baby is born. Baby Week can help mothers in various ways and it will be made the starting point, this year, for certain concrete activities."

Plans now being completed, will include centers for mothers living in the country to gather and take prenatal educational work. The needs of rural mothers are less generally understood than those of city mothers and a rural nursing service is urged as one means of reducing the mortality rate in sections removed from the city.

SPAIN LAUNCHES MOVE TO OUST TEUTON SPIES

BY WILBUR S. FORREST
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, March 1 (by mail)—"A vast army of German agents engaged in surveillance of Spanish ports and shipping" is condemned by the Spanish press and demands made on the government to take steps to get the spies out of the country in papers arriving here today. German bomb plots and intrigues in America are pointed to as examples of what the Spanish government is confronted with.

Since Spain's refusal to openly break with Germany as a protest against the submarine blockade, the Spanish press, except the Germanophile organs, is open in its criticism.

The objecting papers carry lengthy and detailed revelations of the methods of German agents working in conjunction with the submarines. El Liberal, the great newspaper of Madrid, leads in openly declaring that no ship now leaves a Spanish port before its description, cargo, sea route, speed, armament against submarines, make-up of its crew and its destination is known to the submarines lying in wait off the Spanish coast.

Signals

This information is transmitted to the submarines by signals or by wireless and it is so accurate that a German agent can say to a ship captain "your vessel will be sunk at such and such a time." And these predictions are nearly always confirmed by facts. Other vessels, which pass the tests of the agents are spared, the paper says; and continues:

"The German organization is very vast and admirably disposed to take advantage of all the elements at its disposition. Of the 60,000 to 80,000 Germans now in Spain, the most part are officers of the German army, mariners, inventors, industrial workers, commercial agents and technicians of all sorts, who have sought employment on all parts of the Spanish coast. In some instances they work for the lowest wages.

"This German army is directed by the consuls and heads of big German enterprises, commercial and industrial, organized before the war.

Create Friendships

"They have created friendships everywhere, especially among the provincial authorities, the military chiefs, the commandants of marines, the officers of the civil guard, the carbineers, the chiefs of public service among which are the posts and telegraph and civil police.

"This has given birth to a system of espionage, sagely and methodically organized, which acquaints the Germans with most mathematical and precise information for their submarine campaign."

CALIFORNIA IS SECOND IN TUNGSTEN YIELD

State Fields Produced 984 Tons of the Valuable Mineral During 1916

California and Colorado are the largest producers of tungsten in the United States, says the Wall Street Journal. In the first six months of 1916 Colorado produced 1505 tons, of which 1494 tons came from the Boulder county fields, and California in the same period produced 984 tons.

The average price obtained in this country in 1912 was $377 a ton; in 1913, $438; in 1914, $400; in 1915, $970, and in the first six months of 1916, $2700 per ton. The present price is about $1600 to $2000 per ton.

In recent years the demand for tungsten has greatly increased. New discoveries of tungsten ore deposits have failed to keep pace with this growing demand. A part of this increased demand, of course, has been due to war uses in the making of armor plate, projectiles, and the like, as it is being employed in large quantities by all modern arms makers; but in the quieter paths of peace the alloys are now being put to many new and valuable uses.

The almost incredible expansion of aerial navigation, fostered by the needs of modern warfare, has been an important factor in increasing the demand for tungsten. Tungsten steel wire can be drawn out to one five-thousandth of an inch in diameter—that is, tungsten steel is the most ductile steel known.

In addition to this, as it is much stronger than steel made with other alloys, it is employed extensively in the aeroplane industry. Tungsten, as an alloy of steel or aluminum, by increasing the strength threefold, enables the use of lighter frames, bearings and parts, without the sacrifice of stability.

The introduction of a small amount of tungsten in steel rails has been found to make these rails far more lasting and stronger than any now in use and experiments are being carried out which bid fair to open a wide and extensive demand along this line.

Tugsten is also being largely used in the manufacture of electrical devices, all kinds of bearings, knives, saws, talking machine needles and the like.

The automobile trade is now using tungsten very largely for bearings, brakes and wearing parts generally. Some authorities believe, in the near future, at least one unit of tungsten, if available at a fair price, will be used in the construction of every car manufactured, which, in itself, would mean enormous and increasing demand for this metal.

But the most important use of tungsten at the present time is in the manufacture of machinery bearings and high speed lathes and tools. Steel with from 16 to 20 per cent of tungsten will retain its cutting edge even at white heat. It will not corrode and is not affected by acids or alkalis, does not lose its temper and is stronger and superior in every way to any kind of metal so far used for high speed tools or wearing parts.

NEW DEPARTMENTS ADDED BY LEIPSIC

Living Models to Be Feature Of Formal Easter Opening Tomorrow

—"On your way to the post office" during the last week, have you been in the H. Leipsic store at No. 312-314 North Sycamore street? No. Well, then you have missed seeing some activity. In talking with "Harry," as they all call the genial proprietor, he said: "I have been in Santa Ana a little over four months, during which time I have studied the people and their needs. During the last week I have added the goods that I have found were wanted. New departments have been created and old ones enlarged until now I feel that I am ready to call in the public and have them inspect our new store with the large additions to its stock.

"Come over here and let me show you our Ready-to-Wear department. How do you like this tailored suit? Nifty, eh? Here is a sport suit. Notice the finish. Here are wraps, gowns, blouses, millinery and everything that delights the heart of milady.

"You think these look nice now. Come in Saturday and see these same things worn by our Living Models—your wife or best girl can then see just how it is going to look on her. I can tell you, my boy, the ladies are practical these days. They want to know how the garments are going to look before they buy them or wear them, Hence our living models.

"Come in Saturday afternoon or evening and hear some good orchestra music and tell your wife and her friends to come in and get acquainted with the New Daylight Leipsic Store." —Adv.

SHERIFF'S TEXAS VISIT EVENTFUL

Sheriff Jackson is growing feathers—cause why?—eating so many chickens prepared by relatives and old-time friends who are greeting him and his wife in their old home town, Stephensville, Texas.

It has been something like twenty-seven years since the congenial sheriff shook the dirt of Texas from his feet and hit the trail for California. He had not seen his father since leaving and the tour he and Mrs. Jackson are now taking was more for the purpose of seeing the old home town and visiting the father and other relatives than anything else.

In a letter to Miss Opal Davis, chief office deputy, Jackson says that he is at Stephensville and is having the time of his life.

"We are quite a show in this town," reads the letter, "and every one knew us by the time we arrived. We have had more invitations out to dinner than we could fill in a month. My father is getting along very well. The people here tell me that my visit is the best medicine that he has had for a long time. We are going out to a chicken dinner today. I think I have feathers on me already. Tell the boys that I will eat a piece of chicken for each one of them—that will help some."

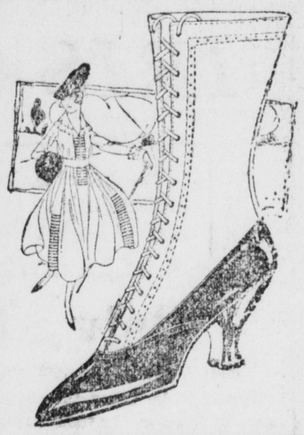

The travelers left Stephensville Tuesday for Denton, where they will remain until Sunday, when they will go to Houston and Galveston for a few days and then on to San Antonio.

ANITA STEWART

"THE GIRL PHILIPPA"

This picture will be shown at the West End Theater, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

AMUSEMENTS

Eugene Moore, who directed Jeanne Eagels in "The World and the Woman," a Pathe Gold Rooster Play, produced by Thanhouser, and to be shown at Clune's Theater on Saturday, studied to be a minister at the divinity school at Harvard, but gave up that career to become an actor.

Mr. Moore was born in Annapolis Valley, Nova Scotia, the land of Evangeline, but lived most of his early life in Boston.

Greatly interested in Shakespeare, Mr. Moore studied big things at the start, and his first application for a position on the stage was made to Thomas W. Keene. He was given a small part and quickly made a reputation as a Shakespearian actor, appearing with John McCullough, Frederick Warde, Louis James and Stuart Robson.

He left the classical drama and was starred for five years in Augustus Thomas' "The Burglar." He then joined the Frohman "Diplomacy" company.

After several seasons in stock, Edwin Thanhouser sent for Mr. Moore, when the Thanhouser Film Corporation was just getting under way, and made him a director. Mr. Moore has directed some of the best productions that the Thanhouser company has released.

At the Temple

—The new bill which opened last night, and continues tonight and tomorrow, proved to be one of the most interesting of the season. The Athon Company in the quaint comedy drama "The Girl From Texas," had the audience with them right from the start. The story is happily blended with striking situations, and good, wholesome comedy; and the little play made one huge hit.

Clifford Lancaster, as Jeremiah Dobbs, distinguished himself as a character comedian of the first rank, and had no trouble in keeping his listeners in an uproar of laughter. To look at him in this character is to laugh, and to hear him speak is the signal for roars of fun. Effie Johnson, as "Texas," was winsome in the soubrette role, and made a very sweet little girl of the south. Robert Athon as Jim Tracy, the big-hearted Oregon miner, gave a splendid rendition of the character, while Clayton Smyth, as the newly-wed, got all out of the part there was in it. The scenes of this playlet are laid up in the mountains of Oregon, and there is an air of the big interior country of Oregon about the production, that makes it exceedingly refreshing.

Enid Bennett in the five-reel Triangle feature, "The Little Brother," attracted favorable comment. The picture is founded on the "Big Brother" movement throughout the country, and if for no other reason, should prove a big winner. It is a dandy story, full of thrills and excitement, with plenty of heart interest thrown in. The Triangle Comedy Players in "A Self Made Hero," were funny in the extreme, and got bunches of laughs.

Enid Bennett, in Triangle Play, "The Little Brother."

Tonight the choice of any $10 dress pattern in the Reinhaus department store, will be given to the lucky woman.—Adv.

SENATOR RUSH TO ASK TO BE EXCUSED FROM ROMINGER BILL VOTE

SACRAMENTO, Mar. 22.—Senator Ben Rush of Suisun says he will ask to be excused from voting on the Rominger anti-saloon, anti-whiskey bill. Senator Rush is in a peculiar position. The wine men in one of the counties which he represents, are in favor of the bill and those of another county are against it. Furthermore, Rush himself doesn't believe in any kind of booze or anti-booze legislation by the Legislature—he thinks it is a matter for the people to decide.

DRINK HOT TEA FOR A BAD COLD

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Thee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once.

It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless.—Advertisement.

IN THE JUSTICE COURT

JACKMAN TO BE TRIED APRIL 4; HUNTINGTON IS FINED $5

Justice Cox Discharges Defendant In Case of Heffern vs. Gordon

The cause of the trouble and the actions of both parties in the recent unpleasantness between S. J. Jackman and E. G. Huntington will be told in Justice Cox's court on Wednesday, April 4, at 9 o'clock in the morning. Jackman was arraigned this morning and entered a plea of not guilty to the charge of disturbing the peace. His attorneys, H. J. Forgy and S. M. Reinhaus, asked for a jury trial. E. G. Huntington pleaded guilty to a charge of disturbing the peace and was fined $5, which was paid.

Not Guilty

Justice Cox yesterday afternoon heard the case of W. C. Heffern vs. G. M. Gordon and discharged the defendant. The parties to the suit are oil men engaged in operations near Fullerton and recently had trouble which resulted in Heffern filing a complaint charging Gordon with disturbing the peace.

CIVIL SERVICE BOARD ALARMED BY REPEATED ATTACKS ON SERVICE

SACRAMENTO, March 23—Repeated attacks on the civil service system are alarming the civil service commissioners. Already a bill has been passed in the assembly exempting attaches of the supreme and appellate courts from civil service and today reports by the assembly committee recommending that two other bills carrying attacks on the system be passed, have caused an additional stir. One is the Ryan bill providing that employes on the San Francisco watertront shall have permanent positions and shall not be subject to the civil service tests after three months of service. The other is a bill by Lyon also providing for exemptions.

AT THE COURTHOUSE

STEPFATHER IS CLEARING BOY'S MONEY TANGLE

With his step-father here on the ground, the financial difficulties of Nelson J. Taylor are being rapidly cleared. Taylor is the young man arrested for the issuance of an insufficient fund check to Layton brothers in payment for an automobile. He was arrested a few days following his marriage in San Diego to a Santa Ana girl.

The step-father is C. R. Lisle of Echo, Ore., and he arrived here yesterday. Through statements from him and correspondence with the bank at Echo upon which the check was drawn, District Attorney West has found that had the check been presented at the bank a day or two later it would have been honored. A sum more than sufficient to take care of the $275 check was deposited to his credit by his mother a day or two after the check was received there and before she knew of his trouble here. Her sickness in a measure was responsible for the difficulties of the young man.

Given Allowance

Judge Cole, sitting for Judge West, today made an order in the case of the suit of Mrs. Charles B. Halley against her husband, allowing her $o per week for support, $50 attorney's fees and $10 court costs. She is asking for separate maintenance.

Arrested in San Diego

J. W. Hasty, who issued a no-fund check to B. H. Blanchard of this city on the 13th inst., has been arrested in San Diego for issuing similar checks there. The check cashed by Blanchard was for $5 and was drawn on the California National Bank. The paper floated at San Diego was also drawn on the local bank.

Inheritance Tax

Mary Gillett is the only heir of the late H. Y. Ernst who will have to pay a tax on the amount inherited from her father's estate, according to the report of Inheritance Tax Appraiser, J. N. Anderson. She received $18,-358.48, of which sum $10,000 is exempted from the tax. She will pay $83.58. Henry L. Ernst and Reca L. Flood and Emma L. Wright, son and daughters, each received $6300, having no tax to pay because the sums are less than the exemption.

Final Decree

A final decree of divorce was today issued to Pymintary Kelley, divorcing her from Dan R. Kelley. She was awarded the custody of the children, Verlie and Thelma.

Appointed Administratrix

Annie McGaffey was today appointed administratrix of the estate of E. W. McGaffey, who died December 13, 1915.

Want Order Vacated

A. W. Rutan and Clyde Bishop, attorneys for J. P. Vrydagh in the divorce action brought against him by his wife, have given the plaintiff and her attorney notice that on April 30, in Department One of the Superior Court, they will move the court to vacate an order made on the 16th inst. In the order the defendant was directed to pay the plaintiff $15 per week pending trial of the case, house rent, $50 court costs and $250 attorneys' fees.

Divorce Suit

Mardula James has filed suit for divorce from O. G. James. Failure to provide is the charge. Morris M. Cain is attorney for plaintiff.

McPherson Gets Judgment

Judge Thomas yesterday concluded hearing the two cases of S. E. McPherson of Orange against the Great Western Milling Company of Los Angeles and gave judgment for the plaintiff. Decision as to the amount will be given later. The suit resulted from the conduct of the Orange Supply Company at Orange by McPherson. The business was conducted by McPherson as manager and part owner with the defendant company. Alleging that the manager had overdrawn his account, the defendant company a year and a half ago took possession of the business and equipment. McPherson brought suit to recover possession of the equipment and for damages.

METROPOLITAN TENOR IGNORES OPERA CALL FROM KAISER WILHELM

NEW YORK, Mar. 23.—Karl Edward Heinrich Jorn, German tenor of the Metropolitan Opera here, will not respond to Kaiser Wilhelm's personal request that he return to Berlin and join the Royal Opera there. Instead he will go before the United States court here next week and ask for his final American citizenship papers, he said today.

"It is true," said Jorn, "that I have received a call from the Royal Opera, sent at the Kaiser's personal request, but I shall not respond to it. I am an American at heart and I want to become one in fact. I have my first and second papers and hope to get my final ones next week." Jorn's wife and children are still in Berlin.

There was a full attendance of members and several guests and all were busily engaged with needlework, with which the afternoon passed in pleasant chat.

Lilies and purple iris, with other Easter decorations tastefully arranged throughout the pleasant rooms, were suggestive of the springtime.

When the ladies were invited to the dining room they were seated at a snowy table upon which little rabbits disported themselves and place cards were tiny nests filled with Easter eggs. Fragrant heliotrope filled a basket in the center of the table, which was finished with an airy table bow. Spanish beans, hot buns, pickles, coffee and pie a la mode were served.

The guests were Jean Winslow, Lois Sweet, Gladys Swarthout, Pauline Carnahan and Ramona Dunnigan from Santa Ana, Lillian Dowell, Cinderella and Lenora Phinney, Lois Day, Helen Elizabeth McDougal, Nellie Ware, Helen Pollard, Laurene Sauers, Irene Young, and the Sixth grade teacher, Miss Grace Casner.

ALL-DAY MEETING

The all-day meeting of the Presbyterian Missionary Society held Thursday at the church was attended by a goodly number of those who are deeply interested in the work of Presbyterian missions throughout the world. The recent Presbyterial annual meeting in Los Angeles had been attended by a number of the members and they received such encouragement and inspiration that they resolved to give those a chance to hear some of the good things in an all-day meeting and the morning was given up to these reports.

The church had been artistically decorated for the occasion, Mrs. Sherman Stevens taking charge of that part of the work. A graceful arrangement of pink Cherokee roses filling a large jardiniere and trailing over the pedestal on one side of the rostrum, was in beautiful contrast to straight sprays of peach blossoms on the other and bridal wreath, feathery green and potted plants added to the inviting effect.

About thirty-five of those present stayed at the church at noon and were prepared each with a light lunch. They gathered around a table in the social room and were served with hot tea and coffee. The table was beautified by the decorating committee with little old-fashioned nosegays of various flowers, each bouquet tied with pink tulle.

The meeting resumed its afternoon session at 1:30, the president, Mrs. P. H. Ebel, presiding. Several missionary hymns were sung and the attendance was considerably augmented by those coming in for the afternoon.

Reports were furnished by Mrs. T. R. Overton.

A song by Mrs. James S. Rice, "We come to the close of another year," sung to the music of "A Perfect Day," added very much to the real enjoyment of the afternoon. She was accompanied by Mrs. S. W. Nau.

The remainder of the afternoon was given over to a talk on Japan by Rev. Marsh of Fullerton. His address was illustrated by a costume and other objects of household interest about Japan. He held the closest attention of his hearers and all seemed to regret the close.

RED HILL JAUNT IS DELIGHT FOR 4TH GRADERS

Teachers Accompany Charges On Charming Outing Tuesday Afternoon

TUSTIN, March 23.—No jaunts or journeys this week around Tustin have caused more delightful thrills than that taken all together by the third and fourth grade pupils of the Grammar school last Tuesday afternoon to Red Hill, accompanied by their teachers, Miss Osborne and Miss Hight, and Mrs. T. R. Overton. They began with the novelty of walking down the road in a body and continued all the way to the hill, which was finally reached.

Everybody had a lunch and it surely was good to sit down and eat. Not until this was finished was the landscape much noticed. Then came the hill climb and the cave was explored. All the lovely afternoon was filled with delightful occurrences. Not until 7 o'clock p. m., was the journey home consummated.

See the Tustin Mercantile advertisement for dry goods and shoe specials.

Why "An-uric" is an INSURANCE Against Sudden Death!

SUFFERERS FROM BACKACHE, RHEUMATISM AND KIDNEY TROUBLE.

Before an Insurance Company will take a risk on your life the examining physician will test the urine and report whether you are a good risk. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog, you suffer from backache, sick-headache, dizzy spells, or the twinges and pains of lumbago, rheumatism and gout. The urine is often cloudy, full of sediment; channels often get sore and sleep is disturbed two or three times a night. This is the time you should consult some physician of wide experience—such as Dr. Pierce, of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y. Send him 10 cents for sample package of his new discovery—"An-uric." Write him your symptoms and send a sample of urine for test. Experience has taught Dr. Pierce that "An-uric" is the most powerful agent in dissolving uric acid, as hot water melts sugar, besides being absolutely harmless and is endowed with other properties, for it preserves the kidneys in a healthy condition by thoroughly cleansing them. Being so many times more active than lithia, it clears the heart valves of any sandy substances which may clog them and checks the degeneration of the blood-vessels, as well as regulating blood pressure. "An-uric" is a regular insurance and life-saver for all big meat eaters and those who deposit lime-salts in their joints. It can now be obtained of the best druggists in 50-cent packages.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets for the liver and bowels have been favorably known for nearly 50 years.

LIVE NEWS GATHERED FROM GARDEN GROVE

LICORICE BEING GROWN, SHIPPED AT G. GROVE

GARDEN GROVE, Mar. 23.—An industry worthy of mention and one of great interest is that of licorice growing. While the U. S. Bureau of Agriculture does not advise planting it, owing to it being impossible ever to eradicate it, when, under favorable conditions for growth and harvesting it yields a crop it is well worth marketing. J. N. Swope has been harvesting the root for some time near the Grove and from half an acre on the Palma place he had 12,086 pounds, which he shipped by express to Camden, N. J. From the Griswell half-acre, 14,000 pounds were harvested and from the Buck place 4000 pounds.

A peculiar feature in the growth of licorice is that the roots do not penetrate the soil below the surface water and in some fields it was only necessary to plow once for harvesting, while in others it was necessary to plow them with a road grader to move the dirt aside, and plow again to a depth of three feet. It takes about five years for the growth to be worth harvesting.

The licorice was planted on these three places by Mr. Griswell about forty years ago. It grows like alfalfa.

'ROYAL HELPERS' ARE ENTERTAINED

GARDEN GROVE, Mar. 23. Mrs. Warren A. Wheeler and Mrs. Nelson Cook were hostesses to the Royal Helpers' class party—Prof. S. R. Fitz, teacher—at the home of Mrs. Wheeler, Tuesday night. It was the regular once-a-month meeting and was a Saint Patrick's party, fifty-one guests being present. The house was tastefully decorated with green crepe paper and baskets filled with myrtle and shamrock hung about the rooms. After the regular business meeting, conducted by the class president, Mrs. George R. Reyburn, a chairman for the evening was elected, George R. Reyburn drawing the honor. A very interesting program was then given, consisting of songs by the crowd, reading by Mrs. C. Crosby, which was pleasingly rendered; a vocal duet by Mrs. O. O. Young and Mrs. John Steele. The meeting was then turned over to Dr. O. O. Young, who gave a very instructive drill in Rules of Order. Dr. Young proved himself thoroughly conversant with the leading authorities.

The remaining part of the evening was spent in parlor games and all became greatly enthused and a fitting close to the evening's enjoyment was most delicious refreshments served by the charming hostesses. The April meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Frank Anderson.

MRS. JNO. STEELE IS HOSTESS TO W.C.T.U.

GARDEN GROVE, Mar. 23.—Mrs. John Steele was hostess to the W. C. T. U. at her home Wednesday from 2:30 to 4:30 p. m. and the president, Mrs. W. B. Harper, began on time and closed on time, as she always does.

Mrs. A. J. Chaffee led in devotions. It being the annual business meeting, the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. W. B. Harper; first vice-president, Mrs. J. T. Delegates to accompany the president were Mrs. Nellie Amos and Mrs. Arrowsmith. One dollar was donated to the Willard Memorial Fund. A most interesting report of the national convention at Indianapolis was read. The local union has made its efforts along prohibition lines felt in many ways during the past year and every effort put forth will reap its reward. No greater work was ever inaugurated than that being done by this union of noble women, who live what they teach.

Afte delicious refreshments, served by the hostess, assisted by her daughters, Miss Clara Steel and Mrs. Launders, meeting adjourned to meet with Mrs. O. O. Young on the third Wednesday in May.

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

All grades of bakers' flour have been raised 20 cents a barrel, and some of the inferior grades of the family article have also been advanced a like amount. It had been expected for some time that values would be boosted to higher levels, although the advances that have just been made do not represent an unreasonable rise when the situation in the primary wheat centers is concerned. If this country goes to war with Germany it will need vast supplies of grain for its troops, and wheat prices are liable to reach heights never before dreamed of.

Flour is bound to go higher in the near future, as stocks of wheat are so low in the hands of millers that every advance in the primary wheat market is followed by a raise in the raw material that the millers have to have in order to manufacture their product.

Feed lines are very irregular. Some kinds have been advanced and others declined. Among the former are yellow and white corn, cracked corn, Egyptian corn, bran, shorts and milo maize. Barley, on the contrary, is down 5 cents a hundred pounds, this decline affecting rolled barley, recleaned barley, and ground barley meal. Dealers in this city declare that the demand for feeds by ranchers and poultry men is heavier than for some time past, notwithstanding the higher quotations being asked.

RUB YOUR EYES

and get a clear vision of the possibilities of Fruit and Nut growing without irrigation in the Templeton-Paso Robles district—a swell place for a home—money making opportunities undreamed of a few years back, a combination of desirable conditions possessed by no other locality in the state, these are reasons why so many men from Orange county and other Southern California points are investing there.

10 acre lots, best orchard zone, near town, fine soil for almonds, walnuts, pears or prunes—all money makers—$90.00 to $175.00 per acre.

10 acre lots, young orchards just coming into bearing, $300.00 to $400.00 per acre.

Here are two good ones, combinations suitable for dairying, hog raising and fruit growing, ¾ mile from high school.

30 acres, ½ in alfalfa, ½ in fine pear, prune or walnut land, $200.00 per acre.

43 acres adjoining and in the same combination and price, the alfalfa land owns electric pumping plant and modern cement pipe line system.

WOMAN SICK TWO YEARS

Could Do No Work. Now Strong as a Man.

Chicago, Ill.—"For about two years I suffered from a female trouble so I was unable to walk or do any of my own work. I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the newspapers and determined to try it. It brought almost immediate relief. My weakness has entirely disappeared and I never had better health. I weigh 165 pounds and am as strong as a man. I think money is well spent which purchases Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. Jos. O'BRYAN, 1755 Newport Ave., Chicago, Ill.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled. It may be used with perfect confidence by women who suffer from displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, and nervous prostration. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the standard remedy for female ills.

BREAKING BOLT SAVES WOMAN INJURY

WESTMINSTER, March 23—As Mrs. Clara Hagen was returning from Santa Ana Sunday, where she attended church, the iron clasp that holds the shaft to the buggy on the left side, broke just before reaching the residence of L. EASTER SUNDAY MAY BE WITHOUT FASHION SHOW FEATURE AT S. F.

SAN FRANCISCO, Mar. 22.—Easter Sunday, 1917, will be remarkable for the fact that it's observance in San Francisco churches will not consist of a fashion show for the main attraction and divine services as an excuse, if a movement started in Chicago and taken up in San Francisco is carried out.

A coterie of girl members of a Christian Endeavor Society in Chicago started the idea when they decided to keep their fancy Easter bonets and their new spring clothes in the dark recesses of the family trunk on Easter day and to devote themselves to the spiritual and not the decidedly material form of worship. In San Francisco the Rev. J. H. Barney of the California street church made the first step when he requested that the choir of his church, which is to render elaborate Easter music, come in simple raiment, just to set a good example for the congregation

Now numerous ministers and church leaders have endorsed the idea and it looks like the day when Easter bonnets and Easter eggs vied with each other for first place on Easter Sunday, have gone.

U. S. SPURRED BY SINKING OF AMERICAN TANKER

FRENCH INFLICT SEVERE LOSSES ON ENEMY, IS PARIS CLAIM

Pursuing Allies Under Fire of Heavy Calibre Guns of Hindenburg

FIERCE FIGHTING ON AT SCORE OF POINTS

On British Front Resistance Of Teutons Stiffening All Along Line

PARIS, Mar. 23. — While fresh French forces pressed steadily forward at Aillette and north of Soissons, other masses of General Nivelle's forces inflicted a stinging defeat on the Germans north of St. Simon, driving them back with heavy losses to Grand Seraucourt.

Today's official statement, relating these facts of the day's progress against the retreating Germans, said the defeat had been very costly to the enemy.

"The Germans attacked and were defeated with heavy losses north of Saint Simon," the statement said. "They were driven back to Grand Seraucourt.

"It is confirmed that the German defeat on the front from Vregny to Chiares was very costly for them. An entire regiment was sent against one point without success."

ALLIES UNDER FIRE OF HEAVY TEUTON GUNS

LONDON, Mar. 23.—Pursuing British and French troops between the Somme and the Soissons are now encountering fire from big caliber German guns. The plain deduction is that the allies are nearing the "Hindenburg line," where permanent foundations for the big guns have long been prepared.

Front dispatches today indicated fierce fighting at a score of points along the line of the Franco-British pursuit. The French still lead in the chase, having apparently penetrated very close to Lafere in the face of greatly augmented opposition during the last twenty-four hours. They are likewise driving near to Laon, supposed to be another strategic point in the "Hindenburg line."

On the British front the German resistance is stiffening to a bitter engagement all along the line. Heretofore the British advance has been by cavalry, fast moving infantry and light field-pieces with machine guns. It was noted today, however, that front dispatches mentioned the bringing into action of heavy artillery, indicating a stand or an expected stand by the enemy.

FRENCHWOMEN FORCED TO WORK IN GERMANY, CLAIM

BY WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WITH THE BRITISH ARMIES IN THE FIELD, Mar. 23.—Not only did the Germans sweep that part of France they are relinquishing clear of homes, supplies and roads—but in many cases they swept it clear of its womanhood.

In some districts women between 15 and 50 were forced to go back into the interior of Germany. The inhabitants left behind were given to understand they are being forced to work for Germany.

At Rouy le Grand today I was told over 400 women and girls between those ages had thus been driven to the interior for work.

TEUTON GUNS ON FLANDERS COAST MORE ACTIVE

BERLIN, via Sayville Wireless, Mar. 23.—"On account of several advances of our own and of hostile reconnoitering detachments artillery activity on the coast of Flanders and in the Arras sectors was temporarily increased," declared today's official statement. "We took a number of prisoners.

"French troops, which on both sides of St. Simon had crossed the Somme and Crozat canal, were repulsed by an attack against and beyond these sectors. The enemy suffered sanguinary losses and lost 230 prisoners as well as several machine guns and carts.

"Between the Oise and the Aisne during the evening engagements developed west and south of Margival.

"Attacks of strong French forces were repulsed under heavy losses by fire and in counter attacks.

"Our artillery also in other places found advantageous aims in assembling and moving troops.

"On the forest of Laville aux Bois, a French attack, launched after strong fire, failed.

News o' the Day From City and County Tersely Told

Frank H. Thompson of Orange received a letter from New York telling of the illness of his aged mother and his sister, of his sister's husband falling and breaking a rib, of the death of his uncle and of the death of his brother, who was killed when he fell from a dry dock.

* * *

A little of mystery is connected with the origin of a tiny smoldering blaze discovered in the basement of the home of Mrs. Bessie McDonald, 506 South Birch street, today. In some way sparks dropped down from a heater in the kitchen and had the fire in the basement not been discovered when it was, serious damage might have resulted. An alarm was turned in, but the services of the firemen were not required.

* * *

Scarcity of well casing is beginning to worry oil operators in the Fullerton district. The situation is reported serious. The inability to get the necessary equipment has caused the Standard to shut down two wells on the Murphy lease.

* * *

Baseball contracts are reported to have been signed with the Weiser, Idaho, club of the Twilight League by Dan Lanfranco and Carid Arambel, fast semi-pro players of Orange, whose work is well known to fans in Orange county.

Mexicans, clad only in their nighties, made a wild dash to safety from their quarters on the Santa Fe right of way at Placentia, when fire threatened the buildings Monday night. A mysterious Mexican who visited the scene shortly before the fire and who said he was a special agent of the Santa Fe, is believed to have knowledge of the origin of the blaze. He is being sought.

Sales of citrus property in Orange county continue. One of the latest deals to be reported is the sale of a 20-acre two-year-old orange grove south of Anaheim by William Black to Elmer Goodrich, of Anaheim. Seventeen thousand dollars was the price paid. A house on Zeyn street, Anaheim, was taken as part of the purchase price.

* * *

Buena Park is keeping in step with other sections of Orange county in the matter of improvements. J. F. Simpson is completing the work of setting out Valencias on six acres of his ranch. Sidewalks will be put down on Tenth street. The new bean warehouse of A. Nelson is being painted.

At a meeting at Brea Thursday night citizens of the Fullerton Union High School district will discuss the election of a trustee on April 6. The Citizens' committee of Brea issued the call for the meeting.

"When you find a knocker talking about there being no opportunities here and that this is only a land for rich men, ask him what he has now or what he ever has done toward grasping opportunities here." This is part of what E. Grant White of Chicago, one of the most noted criminal lawyers of the United States, said at a Board of Trade luncheon at Ananeim.

Summer is coming. A meeting of four members of the "9-9 Club" last night proves it. The four, Chris McNeill, Earl Glenn, Clem Beard and Victor Walker, mapped out plans for the overhauling of their launch, the "9-9," preparatory to this season's deep-sea fishing campaign.

A new residence is being built in Brea canyon by H. O. Butler, an old-time oil man of that section.

Again it must be said that real estate deals continue. Five acres of Valencia and walnut land on West Commonwealth avenue, Fullerton, have been sold by T. S. Virdin to J. N. Swain for $9000.

Funeral arrangements have been completed for the burial of Joseph Reisler, 75, a rancher of northeast Anaheim, who died at the Anaheim Sanitarium from injuries received in a fall from a wagon.

The Brea board of trustees has passed three more ordinances to their second reading. The office of city recorder was created by one ordinance. A second provides for the city making its own assessments this year and a third is an occupation license ordinance, specifying that the license must be paid by the year in advance.

* * *

Members of the merchants' division of the Fullerton Board of Trade in a meeting failed to make changes in the projected occupation license ordinance of Fullerton and it is likely that it will be taken before the Fullerton trustees in its present form.

An action brought by Miss Amy Mendatte against Lewis and Canfield, former owners of the Fullerton Laundry, and others, will be heard Tuesday by a referee of the State Industrial Accident Commission at Fullerton. Miss Mendatte caught her hand in a mangle and incurred a painful injury.

According to a decision given by Justice Inskeep, Fullerton, the unintentional omission of a name from a clause in an insurance policy does not invalidate the policy.

J. A. Hankey, one of the first men to go into the automobile business in Santa Ana, believes that if the United States gets into a war with Germany, one of the first attempts to be made by Germany will be to destroy "strategic avenues of communication between different portions of this country." Hankey has written a letter to this effect to a Los Angeles paper, which printed it. Hankey urges that the railroads place guards on their important bridges. He says in his letter:

"To demolish the bridges spanning the Colorado and a few railroad tunnels would isolate Southern California and hamper communications with the entire Pacific Coast."

BUENOS AIRES, Mar. 23.—South America is apprehensive that entrance of the United States into the war may seriously affect its finances. From high sources in Argentine today the belief was expressed that such a step by the United States—now regarded as certain—would result in concentration of American money into war measures and result in a curtailment of foreign loans, except to the allies fighting against Germany.

STEPHENS URGES COAST CITIZEN ARMY AS AID TO DEFENSE

Patriotism, Preparedness Are Keynotes of Governor's Joint Session Message

SACRAMENTO, March 23.—Urging a strong mobile army of Coast citizens and other defense measures, Governor William D. Stephens today made patriotism and preparedness the keynotes of a message to a joint session of the Legislature.

Governor Stephens said that the safety of California is in danger. In his address he said in part:

"Our beloved republic is in imminent danger of being drawn into the great war. If this cannot be averted, California's safety will be imperilled."

The Governor quoted from military reports showing that it would be difficult to bring troops to California for defense in case of invasion and urged preparation for the support of coast defenses by the organization of a strong mobile army to be made up of citizens of the Pacific Coast.

The need of coast highways as a measure to aid in defending the state in case of hostilities was pointed out by the Governor.

The suggestion was made by the Governor that a state training camp be organized and that the legislature pass an emergency appropriation for this purpose.

A system of rural credits was urged by Governor Stephens, as was also legislation to prevent speculation in foodstuffs.

In his message the Governor reiterated his sympathy with former Governor Hiram Johnson.

R.'" and even feels kindly toward him. Schrank has no relatives and no friends. He is destined to remain here while he lives. He is a house painter by trade. He imagines he is a great philosopher and that he will die famous.

Wilson Personally Directing Work Of Preparing For War

At Least a Score Died When Healdton Was Sunk, Word Today At London

13 Survivors Are Landed At Ymuiden, Holland, Advices Indicate

GALVESTON, Mar. 23.—Officers of a Norwegian steamer arriving here today report that thousands of Germans have entered Mexico through Guatemala with the acknowledged intention of forming an army for war on the United States.

BY ROBERT J. BENDER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, March 23.—Germany's latest affront in the torpedoing without warning of the American tanker Healdton will be answered by continued speeding up of all preparations for actual hostilities which are now regarded as inevitable.

President Wilson and Secretary Lansing are convinced that Germany's present course is merely hastening a clash. The President and his premier are known from the highest and most authoritative sources to have held the firm conviction—even before the sinking of the Healdton—that the Kaiser's government is determined on forcing a declaration of war from this country.

President Wilson met with the cabinet today to consider developments in the international situation and to discuss the progress made by all departments in preparing for hostilities.

There is indication today that the President, after Congress has defined the status between Germany and the United States, will augment his cabinet by one or more posts to cover the work of transportation and possibly a portfolio to handle the work of munitions making.

This, however, is entirely tentative. The more likely course for the present, at least, is believed to be the continuance of the National Defense Council as a special advisory body in preparing for war.

Wilson Directs Work

Government activity embraces such a wide range now that no accurate conception can actually be drawn as to the scope or effectiveness of the country's preparedness work. President Wilson is personally directing all of these war preparations.

Secretary Baker as chairman of the National Defense Council is preparing to meet heads of great industrial concerns to discuss what work is necessary to complete tentative plans to place the country on a war footing.

Secretary of the Navy Daniels is directing his efforts to stimulate recruiting and hurry warship construction.

While the Navy Department bends every energy toward making that arm of the service more effective than ever before, the War Department continues its more or less secret steps toward calling to arms every regular, reserve and national guardsmen when the moment to sound the call is propitious. All possible haste that is compatible with efficiency is being taken in regard to gathering of supplies—guns, ammunition, clothing, quartermaster supplies, etc.

Militia Data Expected

Within a few days at most, it is expected data from state heads regarding militia available, plans for rapid mobilization of the National Guard, details for stationing and distribution of land forces, will be complete.

Beneath the surface activities, official attention turned today to a conference reported under way at imperial German grand headquarters which will be attended by the Kaiser, von Hindenburg and Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg, ostensibly to plan more aggressive land and sea war moves by Teuton forces.

This conference may have a vital effect upon Germany's future policies.

The one ray of hope in the dark situation is that Germany may be forced into an early peace. The administration believed today it had successfully headed off any neutral mediation move by declaring in advance against such a step.

No Mediation Offer

The State Department officially declared today that it had not received an offer of mediation to head off war between the United States and Germany. The discouragement which Secretary Lansing and other officials heaped upon the project yesterday probably will prevent any neutral from formally offering mediation services.

Suggestions still credited to the Swiss minister a hand in spreading the pro-German mediation story, but there was also some suggestion today that the administration itself might have "inspired" the report and squelched it as a warning to neutrals not to interfere.

S. F. GIRL FLIER OFFERS SERVICES TO U. S.

SAN FRANCISCO, Mar. 23.—Miss Jean Doty, 18, aviatrix, has telegraphed an offer of her services as an air pilot to President Wilson and says that if he does not accept she will make an effort to join the army reserve aviation corps.

AT LEAST SCORE DIED ON HEALDTON

LONDON, Mar. 23.—At least a score perished in the unwarned sinking by a German submarine of the Standard Oil tanker Healdton, according to latest information available here today. The snip was torpedoed five miles north of Terschelling, Holland, in the middle of what has heretofore been announced by Germany as one of the "safety zones" in the barred area. Thirteen survivors have been landed at Ymuiden, Holland, of a total of more than forty on board the vessel.

One Holland dispatch today quoted survivors as declaring that three life boats left the sinking Healdton. Two of these, one with seven men and a second with thirteen, were picked up. The third, reported to contain twenty-one men, is still missing.

Not all of the Healdton's crew were Americans and it is not stated in Holland dispatches whether those missing were citizens of the United States. Some dispatches from Ymuiden declared at least a dozen men had been killed or injured by the explosion of the torpedo which sank the Healdton.

NEW ARCTIC BLOCKADE IS INSTITUTED

CHRISTIANIA, Mar. 23.—The foreign office received official notification today that Germany had instituted a blockade of the Arctic ocean between Norway and Spitzbergen.

The new blockade is manifestly aimed to prevent shipments to the Russian port of Archangel, which will be free of ice within a few months and which has always been a great center of import for Russia.

NEBRASKA SALOONS TO BE BANNED BY COFFEE HOUSES, CHURCH PLAN

LINCOLN, Mar. 23.—Religious societies in Nebraska towns and cities are planning to open coffee houses to take the place of the saloons, which will be banished by edict of the voters May 1.

Omaha churches will try out the coffee house idea and if it is successful they will scatter a number of them all over the city. The plan is to make the coffee house a social club for laboring men such as they now have in the saloon. Coffee and sandwiches are to be furnished cheap and the men encouraged to make the places clubrooms.

JITNEY BILL FRAMED AS COMPROMISE WILL PASS, IS EXPECTATION

SACRAMENTO, March 23—The bill framed by the state railroad commission is expected to be passed as a compromise between the jitney and auto stage forces and the transportation corporations. Under this bill the motor bus operators outside of incorporated territory would be put under the jurisdiction of the railroad commission, while those within would be subject to local regulation.

RETIRED NAVAL OFFICERS ARE RECALLED TO FILL DEMAND IN CRISIS

Shipbuilders to Meet In Effort to Cut Time Needed to Build Destroyers

ALL RESOURCES TO BE USED IN SPEED PLAN

'Hornet Fleet' to Be Built As Soon As Possible, Is Word At Capital

WASHINGTON, Mar. 23.—The navy has recalled into active service large numbers of retired officers, Secretary Daniels announced today.

The utter inadequacy of officers for the big naval program's needs is responsible for the new order.

A conference of American shipbuilders will be held tomorrow in an effort to reduce the time in the construction of destroyers and to mobilize all resources for this construction. An extreme effort will be made to build these destroyers in from ten to fifteen months instead of from twenty to twenty-four as heretofore.

While fifteen destroyers have been specifically ordered Secretary Daniels today announced that the Navy Department will order as many more as can be built in time to meet the present crisis. In addition, a "hornet fleet" of submarine chasers, motorboats, etc., will be built as soon as possible.

NEW RUSS GOVERNMENT IS GIVEN RECOGNITION BY ALL ALLY NATIONS

LONDON, Mar. 23.—Full recognition was accorded the new Russian government by action of all the allies today.

PETROGRAD, Mar. 23.—The last of the Romanoffs was under detention at Tsargoe-Selo today, his guards bearing the red banner of the Russian democracy. The former czar, the czarina, the royal couples' only son and their four daughters are now housed in the palace. Every deference has been shown all these members of the former royal family.

Formal granting of recognition to the provisional government by the United States was a cause for public rejoicing throughout Petrograd today.

WOOLEN SHIRTS FOR OFFICE WEAR GAINING IN VOGUE, L. A. WORD

LOS ANGELES, March 23—It makes no difference if it isn't swell; the woolen shirt is being worn more and more by men employed in offices, declares a North Main street clothier.

And there's one redeeming feature which offsets anything ungainly in its appearance, this merchant declares—it saves laundry bills.

Another swat for the high cost of living.

SON OF LEO TOLSTOY GETS S. F. CHANCE TO SHINE IN VAUDEVILLE

SAN FRANCISCO, Mar. 23.—Count Llya Tolstoy, son of the late Count Leo Tolstoy, is scheduled to begin a tryout in vaudeville here day after tomorrow. If he is more successful in this than he was in his attempt to make a speech at Columbia University, he will receive $1,000 a week for forty weeks on the circuit. He will have a tryout of one week to see how he "takes" with the vaudeville patrons. The row the Count had with Dr. Butler of Columbia over his socialistic arguments, which resulted in his being forbidden to appear at Columbia, is what got him the vaudeville engagement.

POLY MAIDS PLAN FUND TO ASSIST WORTHY GIRLS IN COLLEGE

Entertainments to Be Given In Order to Secure Needed Resources

The "Girls' League" of the Santa Ana High School recently organized for the purpose of correcting the impression that the girls of the school were frivolous and attend school more for pleasure than to learn, has gone a step further and is now organizing a fund with which to assist worthy and conscientious girls of the school in securing a college education.

It will be operated along the lines of a free scholarship in a higher institution of learning similar to that which has been in vogue in the school under the management of the faculty.

The fund will be created through the giving of entertainments and other money-making schemes. Voluntary contributions will not be asked for and no system of dues will be inaugurated. Full details of the method of securing the fund and award of assistance have not yet been fully worked out.

To Create More Interest

The idea is to create a greater interest in the school work and in school activities and the student who attains the highest marks through the school year will be rewarded for her efforts by an award of whatever amount of money might be available in the fund at the conclusion of the school year.

There are many ambitious students who desire to carry their pursuit of knowledge to the universities whose parents haven't the means to give them all the advantages of the higher branches of learning without embarrassing themselves. When the fund is fully established, the conscientious and worthy student who attains the highest mark will be given a scholarship in the university in which she chooses to continue her studies. The first year or two the assistance of the league may amount only to $15 or $20, depending on the success of the plans for accumulating the fund.

The organization of the league has had a most beneficial effect on the action of the students, and has already demonstrated that it was a good move.

Mannerisms Eliminated

Mannerisms on the street and at school which caused considerable unfavorable comment from the public have been almost entirely eliminated, it is asserted.

The greatest interest is being manifested in the organization. The school management has assigned the league an office, and this has been equipped by the girls with desk and other equipment. The cabinet meets here and members are at liberty to go to the office at any time for consultation with members of the cabinet or other officers of the league.

Miss Helen Walker, president of the league, is delighted with the success of the organization, for it has brought about a greater co-operation among the girls and has been effective in results towards the elimination of features which have caused the criticism of the school.

HUNT FOR $250,000 PAINTINGS STOLEN IN SPAIN IS NATIONWIDE

NEW YORK, Mar. 23.—Paintings by old masters, valued at more than $250,000, stolen from the Athanaeum, at Santander, Spain, when that place burned last January 10, are believed by Baron de Quinto, their owner, to have been smuggled into the United States and hidden.

Baron de Quinto, aided by the police of many cities, started a nation-wide search for the paintings today. Among the stolen works are Van Dyck's "Portrait of the Duke of Richmond," Titian's "Venus and Adonis" and Valasquez's "The Disciples of Emmaeus." The Spanish ambassador may seek federal aid if the local searches fail.

SALT LAKE LINE IS OPPOSED AT VILLA PARK

That the Salt Lake may expect no consideration in the form of shipments if it forces its right of way through the productive orange groves of the Villa Park section, is intimated by parties who own properties in that vicinity through which surveys have already been run. Considerable opposition is being developed. Mrs. I. Lee Collins is one of the property owners who will be up in arms against the company if it attempts to force a right of way through her place. Lines have been run through her property by surveyors. Several pieces of valuable orange property would be left in bad shape should the peliminary survey lines be followed.

STIR IS CAUSED BY CANDIDACY OF WOMAN

The candidacy of Miss Sue Scarritt of Orange, just announced, for election as a member of the Orange Union High School Board, threatens to create some little stir in the district. She aspires to be D. P. Crawford's successor, his term expiring. Crawford was elected from the Olive district, but has since moved to Orange. It has long been the custom to give the outside districts representation on the board. Olive, Villa Park and El Modena have named one member each and Orange two.

Should Miss Scarritt be elected to succeed Crawford, Orange would have three representatives on the board and Olive none.

C. A. Palmer, of Olive, has been suggested as a candidate from the Olive district.

Ream Bill Seeking Co. Road Engineers Same As Finley's

Del Norte Assemblyman Plans Fight On Floor For Measure; Local Supervisor Has Agreed to Let His Own Bill Die Natural Death, Writes Stephenson

BY T. E. STEPHENSON
(Special to the Register)

SACRAMENTO, Mar. 21.—In Assemblyman H. B. Ream of Del Norte, Supervisor S. H. Finley has a man who is exactly after his own heart, so far as the management of county roads is concerned. The Santa Anan's plan for having all of the county roads of a county placed under a competent engineer, who shall have full charge of every county road, is a familiar one in Orange county. The colonel made his campaign partly upon that issue, and since he was elected he has brought the matter up in various ways before the Board of Supervisors. He has stood one against four on that board.

Under that plan, the present system of control of county road work, each supervisor for his own district with the work being done under the supervision of the individual supervisor and the road bosses under him, would be done away with.

Assemblyman Ream has Col. Finley matched at every turn. While Col. Finley was sending a bill to Assemblyman Burke with the request that it be introduced, carrying the endorsement of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce and some other similar organizations of Orange county, Ream had a bill already introduced that outlined the same plan.

To Push Ream Bill

Ream and Col. Finley have since had some correspondence on the subject, and it has been agreed that Ream's bill will be pushed, and Finley's will die a natural death.

"I believe my bill has a chance of going through and becoming law," said Ream today. "I am not making any special fight for it, however. I mean by that that I am not importuning my friends to vote for it. I am going on the floor of the Assembly, however, and make a fight for it. I am going to amend it by fixing the salaries for every county road engineer for every county in the state. I think that will be necessary in order to prevent a county from fixing a salary so low that the law will become inoperative."

I asked a number of other legislators what they thought of the likelihood of Ream's bill passing and from them came definite statements that they did not believe the bill was at all likely to pass.

Former Football Manager

Among those I bumped into was State Senator William Scott of San Francisco. This Scott, by the way, was manager of the old professional football team at Fresno some twelve or thirteen years ago on which Burt Stephenson of El Toro played fullback. Fred Scott, a brother of Bill, was quarterback on that team, and two years ago he was assemblyman from Tulare county.

"What was the matter with Fred?" I asked. "How came it that they licked him for re-election."

"Fred fathered a county engineer bill," said the state senator, exactly the same proposition that Assemblyman Ream has got up now. That bill did not listen very well down around Tulare, and when Fred ran for re-election they got him. That is why he is not back in the legislature."

All of which may be pertinent to the general opinion among legislators that Ream's bill is not going to see any necks cracked in the rush to get behind it.

Visual Educational Bills Bid Fair to Become Laws

Special to the Register.

BY J. E. DONALDSON OF THE FULLERTON HIGH SCHOOL FACULTY.

SACRAMENTO, Mar. 20.—It has been impossible for me to find the time to write a word of my impressions of Sacramento until this minute. I went up there to see if it would be pssible to have enacted into law three bills relating to the question of visual education in the schools of California. The Visual Education Association of California, of which I have the honor to be a member, has been striving for the last four years for financial assistance in making the motion picture, stereopticon, stereograph, and other visual aids in education a reality. Two years ago we succeeded in having a law passed that would authorize the establishment of a state bureau under the State Board of Education. The bill was not signed by the governor for what seemed to him good reasons—that is to say, the money was needed elsewhere. We then came back to Los Angeles county and were successful in getting the county Board of Supervisors to set aside a fund for the establishment of a county bureau which is now in successful operation.

We have come to the conclusion that the work should be undertaken not only by a state bureau, but also by a county bureau in those counties especially interested as most of the counties of the southern part of the state are, and to this end we have introduced three bills: Assembly Bill 502, providing for a county visual education fund to be levied in a special tax by the Board of Supervisors when in their judgment it is advisable and expended by the County Board of Education in the county and by the City Board of Education in those cities having a Board of Education and superintendent of schools. This bill seems assured of passage to the Governor. It is essential that those interested in his signing it should let him know their views on the matter; and Assembly Bills 503 and 505, providing for the state bureau under the State Board of Education to work in conjunction with the county bureaus and thus properly co-ordinate the work and avoid needless duplication of expenditure for this purpose. Bill 505 carries the appropriation to make 503 effective and it is very essential that the friends of visual education should write their senator or representative and inform him of their wishes in this matter.

It would not be just to Assemblyman Burke of Santa Ana to close this communication without saying that it is largely due to his energetic help that bill 502 is so far along on its way to final passage. In fact it was a great pleasure to find that the Orange County assemblyman is rapidly becoming one of the strong men of the Assembly. If he fails to answer your letters do not impute it to a lack of interest on his part, but to the simple fact that he is one of the unfortunate few who cannot always find a stenographer to take dictation.

MY TIRED FEET ACHED FOR "TIZ"

Let Your Sore, Swollen, Aching Feet Spread Out In a Bath of "Tiz"

Just take your shoes off and then put those weary, shoe-crinkled, aching, burning, corn-pestered, bunion-tortured feet of yours in a "Tiz" bath. Your toes will wriggle with joy; they'll look up at you and almost talk and then they'll take another dive in that "Tiz" bath.

When your feet feel like lumps of lead—all tired out—just try "Tiz." It's grand—glorious. Your feet will dance with joy; also you will find all pain gone from corns, callouses and bunions.

There's nothing like "Tiz." It's the only remedy that draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up your feet and cause foot torture.

Get a 25-cent box of "Tiz" at any drug or department store—don't wait. Ah! how glad your feet get; how comfortable your shoes feel. You can wear shoes a size smaller if you desire.—Advertisement.

WOMAN EXPERT TELLS HOW TO DETERMINE IF INFANT IS NORMAL

BY MRS. MAX WEST
(Of the Federal Children's Bureau)
(Written for the United Press)

Mothers always like to know whether their children compare favorably with others in their development; and to have some standards by which to measure growth. Some of these rules are simple and are easily remembered.

The average weight of girl babies at birth is 7 pounds; that of boys 7½. Healthy babies usually double their weight by the sixth month and treble it by the end of the first year. Therefore if the baby weighs 21 pounds at 1 year of age it is up to normal.

The first tooth is usually cut from the sixth to the eighth month. The full set of twenty milk teeth should be in place when the baby is two years old. The "sixth year molar," as it is called, is the first of the permanent teeth to appear, but as it does not replace one of the first teeth mothers allow it to decay because they believe it to be a temporary tooth.

The baby begins to laugh aloud from the third to the fifth month, and speaks a few words by the end of the first year. He usually frames short sentences by the time he is two years old.

Baby should sit up unsupported a little while by the seventh or eighth month, stand at ten or eleven months and walk alone by the fifteenth or sixteenth. The soft spot on the top of the head should be entirely closed by the end of the second year.

CUBS' WEAKNESS TOLD

OAKLAND, March 23.—Inability to hit right-handed pitchers is the Cubs' greatest weakness this year. And while the Oakland starboard siders were toying with the Bruins, the Native Sons nicked Al Demaree and Nick Carter for six counters.

are still $17, but the price of nearly everything else has jumped.

When the war came everyone in the clothing business thought that wool would go up. The makers of Styleplus Clothes $17 on account of their extensive advertising were duty bound to keep on supplying the public with "all wool fabrics, expert tailoring, the skill of a great designer," at the known price $17—provided there was any way on earth to do it.

What happened? These makers bought woolens and linings in tremendous quantity. They kept on advertising "the price remains the same." Volume doubled, manufacturing costs dropped because of the increased production—new efficiency and new economies came to light through the "necessity of the hour."

Incidently, the makers as well as ourselves have been content with a smaller profit in order to keep your price the same.

Please do not forget—we are the only Styleplus Store here.

MEETING TONIGHT STIRS SEAL BEACH

SEAL BEACH, Mar. 23.—Citizens of this city today are greatly interested in a meeting which will be held tonight to hear J. P. Transue's open reply to a widely circulated letter setting forth Mayor J. H. Blagge's position in the recent controversy here.

A recall petition has recently been circulated against Blagge, on a charge that he adjourned a meeting without parliamentary precedure, although it is said that other reasons prompted the action.

NATIONAL CONFERENCE ON CHILD LABOR ON AT BALTIMORE TODAY

BALTIMORE, Mar. 23.—Child labor opponents from all over the United States met here today for the Thirteenth annual conference on Child Labor.

One of the important features of the conference will be a discussion of how much of an obstacle child labor is to social reform. This question will be discussed by B. Howell Griswold of Baltimore, Miss Julia C. Lathrop of the Federal Children's Bureau at Washington, Dr. D. Carlos de Pena, minister from Uruguay, and Miss Anna Davis.

SENATOR WORKING OUT NEW TRUST BUSTING METHOD AT CAPITAL

SACRAMENTO, Mar. 23.—A new method of attacking trusts is being worked out under the direction of Chairman William Kehoe of the Senate Judiciary committee. The present legal machinery for this purpose is admitteuly inadequate. This bill now is being prepared and is along lines suggested by Charles Wesley Reed and Mrs. W. T. Cleverdon of the Berkeley committee on the High Cost of Living and is patterned after the Clayton act passed by Congress.

CITY MANAGER IDEA SPREADING

Equity, a Philadelphia Magazine devoted to governmental improvement, says that more than 550 municipalities in the United States have already adopted the commission, commission-manager, limited council or variations of these new forms of government in the search for increased efficiency in the conduct of public affairs. In answer to a questionaire sent out by Equity, signed reports have been received from 449 municipalities, furnishing a body of facts from all sections of the country. The facts are almost all in the direction of greater efficiency of administration as a result of the concentration of powers in small bodies of officials elected to represent the community and each member of which is wholly responsible for a definite share or department of the government. The reports invariably testify to the important improvements obtained for the community together with numerous and striking economies.

"One of the most noticeable features disclosed by our investigation," says Equity, "is the trend toward the manager idea, over ninety municipalities having moved in this direction. But wherever the commission-manager plan is adopted all the greater need is felt for the powers of direct popular control. While it is true that the commission remains the policy-determining body and is held directly responsible to the voters for the success or failure of a given administration, still it is found in practice that a successful manager must come into pretty close contact with the people of the community as an administrator. In this way the manager seems to embody, and so far as administration is concerned does embody, the idea of greater concentration of authority. But when it is seen that this authority has nothing to do with changes in policy, and that the commission which employs the manager is itself subject to the recall, or its legislative policy subject to the initiative and referendum, the people are able to understand that while they are getting greater efficiency of administration they thus remain in constant control of their government."

BEER OR BREAD?

For weeks past the country has been agitated from one border to the other on the question of food distribution and food prices. The high cost of living is making life itself almost prohibitive. The liquor traffic is in large measure responsible. It is a raid on the American pantry. All the elements that enter into food prices are deleteriously affected by the liquor trade. Take, for example, raw material. Alcohol cannot be made except by destroying carbohydrate foods, such as sugar and starch, and while sugar is mounting to 15 cents a pound the liquor traffic is consuming each year enough sugar to supply the entire country for thirty days. We are taking sugar from the mouths of babies to enrich the brewers. A vast amount of labor is wasted in producing, transporting and distributing alcoholic beverages. It is estimated that the muscular man-power expended, not in making, but merely in handling, the output of the liquor factories is sufficient to set up and pull down the great Pyramid of Egypt nine times a year, although it took 100,000 men a generation to build it.

The papers have been reciting in flaming headlines the stories of food riots in New York because of a car shortage, but the liquor trade uses the equivalent of three thousand trains of 200 tons each year. It wastes millions of cubic feet of space in our export and import shipping; crowds our docks; fills our freight cars, crowding out of them articles of food. The labor efficiency-loss each year to America because of drink is equivalent to the entire nation standing idle for thirty days.

In these times of high taxes and high prices every dollar wasted buys misery for large parts of our population, and all this is saying nothing of the vice, crime, disease, sorrow, and pain resulting from the drink traffic.

The question is, "Shall American women and children be underfed that American men may be full beered?"

Dr. Enochs, phone 602W, 411½ Main.

WHAT THE ADAMSON LAW MEANS

The Labor Unions Win and Lose

(FROM THE FRESNO REPUBLICAN)

In the decision affirming the validity of the Adamson eight-hour bill, it seems very probable that the labor unions have won the battle and lost the war. They have got the eight-hour wage standard for which they contended, but they have got it by a decision which would have given the government equal authority to decide against them and to enforce its decision on them. Under this decision the railroads of the country must run, and neither the managers, representing the owners, nor the unions, representing the workers, can stop them. If they can agree without strike, the decision implies that this agreement is not to be disturbed by law. But there must be an agreement and a wage standard. If the immediate parties can not reach that agreement or fix that standard, then the Federal government has the right to do it and to enforce this standard on whatever side is unwilling to accept it. In this particular case, up to within a few hours of the announcement of the decision, the railroad managers had been the unwilling side. But in the next case, the labor unions will likely be the unwilling side, and the power of Congress is equally binding on them.

From the standpoint of the public interest and of the ultimate responsibility to the public of all combinations, both of capital and labor, this is an important advance. But from the standpoint of the traditional doctrine of the labor unions, it is a fatal defeat. Their doctrine has been that the right to strike is as unconditional as the individual right to quit work, and that both are absolute and beyond the control of any law or power whatever. It has been their principle that they would rather lose a strike than to win it by the exercise of a governmental authority which in another case might be used against them. Now, by the decision of the highest court in the United States, from which there is no appeal, this theory is permanently abrogated. Henceforward a general strike on the railroads of the United States is impossible. If the employers and the employes can not agree, Congress has the right and the obvious duty to interpose a compulsory method of determining the case and to enforce the determination reached on either side, including the labor side. If this principle is put into effect, it means, not the end of labor unionism, but the end of the particular sort of labor unionism which we have had. For our part, we think it will introduce a better because more responsible sort of unionism. But from the standpoint of those who have been conducting the contests of union labor, the winning of this one battle has lost the war.

We Must See It Through

(FROM THE FRESNO REPUBLICAN)

By the act of President Wilson in calling Congress two weeks earlier than he had intended, the nation is practically committed to a formal declaration that war has existed between Germany and the United States since last Sunday, and apparently the only question now open is whether Germany will precipitate that war within the next two days or whether the United States will have two weeks to precipitate it. Even this question is not important, since if any belligerent act were physically possible by Germany within the two weeks, the precedents of recent wars indicate that there would be no hesitation to commit such an act on account of any mere lack of formal declaration.

The European countries are all now debating whether the "morale" of themselves and their allies or enemies will hold out. By "morale" they mean the resoluteness of the whole people to keep on seeing the war through, no matter what the cost to themselves in money or suffering.

In Germany it is the question whether the people will still be determined to fight when they are hungry themselves all the time, when their children begin to die, and when to actual physical hunger is added the new mental disease known as "starvation fear," which is spreading in many localities in Germany. In England the question means whether the English people will continue to be resolute in war when they all have to be on short rations of food and clothing, when even their present small fraction of personal liberty is destroyed, and when taxes go so high that the average man of means will have to pay fully half of his total income in taxes every year.

If America gets into the war, no one can tell how long it will last or the ramifications it will develop and how much it will cost. And Americans, except under the stress of excitement or very imminent danger, are not noted for this particular sort of "morale." They get bored too easily, and they tend to quit a job half finished for no better reason than that it has ceased to be interesting. If this war into which we are entering, instead of stopping this summer through some sudden coup, should go on until we are as deeply involved in it as the European nations are now, would America's "morale" still continue when almost every family had a vacant chair, when all business was disrupted, when individual liberty, especially in the petty and therefore precious things, had disappeared, and when the average taxpayer of means had to pay taxes at least ten times higher than the highest taxes he ever complained of in the past?

The whole nation will hope that this test is never to come. But unless we are able to live up to this test in the final struggle of war, we have no right to begin the war. For unless we have the resoluteness and character to sustain even this test, we are staking our national life on the lucky chance of a short and easy war. This may be in fact what we get. Prospects for the moment seem more than ever favorable to this conclusion. But unless we are ready to see this war through at its worst, if that should come, we have no right to take the fatal step now; or, rather, since that step is now unescapable, we had no right to take the preliminary steps of which this final step is the inevitable outcome.

WITH MALICE TOWARD NONE

A Body Blow

Hot dogs, so called, are to be doubled in price, and there is mourning along the beaches.

If you don't know what hot dog is this column is unable to inform you. it is an edible supposed to be swallowed hot, both with fire and condiments. It is stuffed into receptacles so considerately furnished by the inner workings of pigs, but as to its precise composition, only the composer knows, and the chances are that he wouldn't tell. No matter, anyhow. The point is that hot dog is going up, a circumstance likely to interfere with its usual habit of going down.

The excuse is that every ingredient of hot dog is higher in price than formerly, that the mustard that renders it savory is away up there and still rising, and that even the paper bag in which it is purveyed costs double the old figure.

Of course the war in Europe was bound to enhance the price of mustard and other material used in making munitions, but the calamity of it all is getting through the intelligence. Hot dogs have jumped and hit us a body blow.

Elevated

Several senators have been hanged in effigy lately.

Most of them have been in the air before this, however.

Diplomacy

One puzzle of diplomacy is that after "the last word" the diplomat talks right along.

Perhaps he gets so in the habit of talking that his vocal apparatus operates automatically.

Censorship

Instead of being told that they cannot have any information concerning the army and navy, newspaper men have been requested not to print anything that could be harmful to the country.

And there's your censorship, ready-made and iron clad, and no fuss.

Publicity

True Reform

George Perkins recently bought 90,000 bushels of potatoes for the poor of New York, these to be sold without profit.

If George can handle a business deal without making money by it, he certainly is striving to lead a better life.

Passed Something

The lie was passed recently in the Colorado legislature.

Well, anyhow, they didn't get up a filibuster and decline to pass anything.

In a Good Field

A man who gave up his occupation as "missionary" was arrested the other day for breaking the traffic laws, indignantly refused to pay a fine and went to jail.

That's a fruitful field for the activities in which he specializes

Fugacious and Pugnacious

Prof. Scott Nearing has left another university job because he didn't like what somebody said about him.

For a man whose regular occupation is the hurling of rhetorical bricks, Nearing is singularly sensitive.

Protecting Women

The British government has requested women subjects who may be in this country to stay here. An exception is made of young women who "must either get back to their own people for support or seek an ignoble livelihood in the streets of New York."

That's a pretty hard slam at New York. Is it no longer possible for the young woman to earn a living by methods not ignoble?

If women are to be protected by taking them out of New York by way of the war zone, their situation must be regarded as desperate.

Immortality

The kaiser has promised immortality to the late Count Zeppelin.

Immortality, however, is something that has been promised to all of us and by an authority generally reckoned higher than the kaiser's.

Perils of Travel

When the people at the east feel the impulse to travel, their desires find a natural outlet towards the direction in which there is no danger zone.

It is thus that the west gets a little casual benefit from the war.

A Valuable Person

Morgan is said to be about to insure his life for $2,500,000.

The ability to pay the premium on this would be a good excuse to most people for not paying it.

The Reason

Dr. Woods Hutchinson asks, "Why should women not wear pants?"

Because in some instances the garment would not be becoming. Take for example, the matron who is trying to reduce.

CAN anyone explain why men are so remarkably keen for new hats this season?

It's Springtime—everyone welcomes a Spring change.

Times are prosperous—everyone has the habit nowadays.

Men have better taste than formerly, they want dressy haberdashery.

We are mighty glad that we feature Stetsons—for Stetsons are what men and younger men are buying. We are told it's the snappiest line we have shown for years.

OFFICERS' LUNCHEON

White Ribbon Officials Entertained by Mrs. Mills and Mrs. Rogers

A most delightful four-course one o'clock luncheon was given yesterday by Mrs. I. D. Mills of Orange and Mrs. F. J. Rogers of Santa Ana at the home of Mrs. Mills, 259 North Orange street, Orange.

The guests of honor were the general officers and local presidents of the Orange County W. C. T. U. Every union was represented by the president, except El Modena, and it was with great regret that the president could not be present.

A St. Patrick scheme prevailed throughout the luncheon. Places were found by place cards adorned with a picture of the harp that sounded through Tara's halls, and tied with a tiny knot of white ribbon. Cherokee roses were used to grace the center of each beautifully appointed table. All joined in singing the temperance doxology.

The menu consisted of chicken boullion, wafers, chicken pates, mashed potatoes, peas, pickles, hot biscuit, fruit salad, lemon cream pie, coffee, mints. Mrs. T. A. Winbigler and Mrs. E. F. Caldwell, daughters of Mrs. Mills, assisted in serving.

Those who were present were: Mrs. F. J. Rogers, county president; Mrs. L. C. Yoeman, Anaheim; Mrs. Estelle Harper, Garden Grove; Mrs. Lea Warren, Santa Ana; Mrs. Ella Brown, Tustin; Mrs. E. P. TEUTON MENACE TO U. S. CRAFT IS RUMORED IN BRAZIL

In Case of War Merchantmen of Germans Might Raid Yankee Shipping

BY H. B. ROBERTSON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

RIO DE JANERO, March 1 (by mail)—There are twenty-eight German merchantmen interned in this and other Brazilian ports today which, rumor has it, would become raiders of American shipping in case of war between the United States and Germany.

These ships total about 110,000 tons and are valued at $4,000,000. Half of them are in this port and the others scattered about other Brazilian ports.

With two exceptions all these ships are at liberty to put to sea at any time. Ever since Brazil's protest to Germany over the submarine blockade, attention has been focused on the German ships by persistent stories that several of the interned steamers were waiting a favorable moment to make their escape.

Anchored in an open part of the bay, well under the survillance of the harbor's forts and the Brazilian fleet, these fourteen ships form a listless and desolate group.

Ships Interned

Of the ships interned here the "Sierra Salvada" is the largest with 4,951 tons net register. The others are the "Edenberg" (2,782 tons), "Cap Roca" (3,690 tons), "Coburg" (4,200 tons), "Hohenstaufen" (4,086 tons), "Roland" (4,255 tons), "Henriette" (1,921 tons), "Alrich" (4,265 tons), "Carl Woermann" (3,490 tons), "Posen" (4,094 tons), "Etruria" (2,885 tons), and the "Franklin" (3,223 tons).

Besides these there were the "Muansa" (3,733 tons), which entered on August 19, 1914, but sailed a few days later for Buenos Aires and is at present interned in Chile, and the "Prussia" which entered August 20, sailed for Santos five days later and did not arrive at that point for a month in spite of the fact that it was a day's trip. An inquiry undertaken by port authorities for the purpose of finding the cause of this mysterious month's disappearance did not establish any definite results. It's an easy guess, however, that the "Prussia" did not risk capture by British cruisers on a mere pleasure trip and that some raider ship benefitted in suppiles during her disappearance.

Goes Into Open

Another ship that broke the monotony of internment by venturing into the open was the "Edenberg," which after twenty days of lying idle sailed for Santos, where she never arrived. One month later the "Edenberg" returned calmly to Rio, dropped her anchor and landed the crew and passengers of the "Indian Prince" which had been sunk by the German cruiser "Kronprinz Wilhelm," which itself interned later in a North American port. For this venture the "Edenberg" was ordered under guard by the Brazilian government.

Outside of the "Prussia" and the "Edenberg" any of the interned German ships have the right to leave the harbor at will.

BABY WEEK PLANS THIS YEAR HUGE

WASHINGTON, March 20—Plans to make Baby Week celebrations throughout the country this year from May 1 to May 6, a huge educational movement for the reduction of mortality among women at child-birth are under way at the Children's Bureau of the Department of Labor today.

Baby Week celebrations in the past have been directed more toward reducing infant mortality. The fact, however, that 15,000 mothers are dying annually from conditions incident to child-birth has opened up an even greater problem, the Bureau announced. Ignorance and neglect are the prime causes of this high mortality.

"Many women," one official at the Bureau said, "do not seem to realize how much their own health and the health of their children depends on the intelligent care of the mother before her baby is born. Baby Week can help mothers in various ways and it will be made the starting point, this year, for certain concrete activities."

Plans now being completed, will include centers for mothers living in the country to gather and take prenatal educational work. The needs of rural mothers are less generally understood than those of city mothers and a rural nursing service is urged as one means of reducing the mortality rate in sections removed from the city.

SPAIN LAUNCHES MOVE TO OUST TEUTON SPIES

BY WILBUR S. FORREST
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, March 1 (by mail)—"A vast army of German agents engaged in surveillance of Spanish ports and shipping" is condemned by the Spanish press and demands made on the government to take steps to get the spies out of the country in papers arriving here today. German bomb plots and intrigues in America are pointed to as examples of what the Spanish government is confronted with.

Since Spain's refusal to openly break with Germany as a protest against the submarine blockade, the Spanish press, except the Germanophile organs, is open in its criticism.

The objecting papers carry lengthy and detailed revelations of the methods of German agents working in conjunction with the submarines. El Liberal, the great newspaper of Madrid, leads in openly declaring that no ship now leaves a Spanish port before its description, cargo, sea route, speed, armament against submarines, make-up of its crew and its destination is known to the submarines lying in wait off the Spanish coast.

Signals

This information is transmitted to the submarines by signals or by wireless and it is so accurate that a German agent can say to a ship captain "your vessel will be sunk at such and such a time." And these predictions are nearly always confirmed by facts. Other vessels, which pass the tests of the agents are spared, the paper says; and continues:

"The German organization is very vast and admirably disposed to take advantage of all the elements at its disposition. Of the 60,000 to 80,000 Germans now in Spain, the most part are officers of the German army, mariners, inventors, industrial workers, commercial agents and technicians of all sorts, who have sought employment on all parts of the Spanish coast. In some instances they work for the lowest wages.

"This German army is directed by the consuls and heads of big German enterprises, commercial and industrial, organized before the war.

Create Friendships

"They have created friendships everywhere, especially among the provincial authorities, the military chiefs, the commandants of marines, the officers of the civil guard, the carbineers, the chiefs of public service among which are the posts and telegraph and civil police.

"This has given birth to a system of espionage, sagely and methodically organized, which acquaints the Germans with most mathematical and precise information for their submarine campaign."

CALIFORNIA IS SECOND IN TUNGSTEN YIELD

State Fields Produced 984 Tons of the Valuable Mineral During 1916

California and Colorado are the largest producers of tungsten in the United States, says the Wall Street Journal. In the first six months of 1916 Colorado produced 1505 tons, of which 1494 tons came from the Boulder county fields, and California in the same period produced 984 tons.

The average price obtained in this country in 1912 was $377 a ton; in 1913, $438; in 1914, $400; in 1915, $970, and in the first six months of 1916, $2700 per ton. The present price is about $1500 to $2000 per ton.

In recent years the demand for tungsten has greatly increased. New discoveries of tungsten ore deposits have failed to keep pace with this growing demand. A part of this increased demand, of course, has been due to war uses in the making of armor plate, projectiles, and the like, as it is being employed in large quantities by all modern arms makers; but in the quieter paths of peace the alloys are now being put to many new and valuable uses.

The almost incredible expansion of aerial navigation, fostered by the needs of modern warfare, has been an important factor in increasing the demand for tungsten. Tungsten steel wire can be drawn out to one five-thousandth of an inch in diameter—that is, tungsten steel is the most ductile steel known.

In addition to this, as it is much stronger than steel made with other alloys, it is employed extensively in the aeroplane industry. Tungsten, as an alloy of steel or aluminum, by increasing the strength threefold, enables the use of lighter frames, bearings and parts, without the sacrifice of stability.

The introduction of a small amount of tungsten in steel rails has been found to make these rails far more lasting and stronger than any now in use and experiments are being carried out which bid fair to open a wide and extensive demand along this line.

Tugsten is also being largely used in the manufacture of electrical devices, all kinds of bearings, knives, saws, talking machine needles and the like.

The automobile trade is now using tungsten very largely for bearings, brakes and wearing parts generally. Some authorities believe, in the near future, at least one unit of tungsten, if available at a fair price, will be used in the construction of every car manufactured, which, in itself, would mean enormous and increasing demand for this metal.

But the most important use of tungsten at the present time is in the manufacture of machinery bearings and high speed lathes and tools. Steel with from 16 to 20 per cent of tungsten will retain its cutting edge even at white heat. It will not corrode and is not affected by acids or alkalis, does not lose its temper and is stronger and superior in every way to any kind of metal so far used for high speed tools or wearing parts.

NEW DEPARTMENTS ADDED BY LEIPSIC

Living Models to Be Feature Of Formal Easter Opening Tomorrow

—"On your way to the post office" during the last week, have you been in the H. Leipsic store at No. 312-314 North Sycamore street? No. Well, then you have missed seeing some activity. In talking with "Harry," as they all call the genial proprietor, he said: "I have been in Santa Ana a little over four months, during which time I have studied the people and their needs. During the last week I have added the goods that I have found were wanted. New departments have been created and old ones enlarged until now I feel that I am ready to call in the public and have them inspect our new store with the large additions to its stock.

"Come over here and let me show you our Ready-to-Wear department. How do you like this tailored suit? Nifty, eh? Here is a sport suit. Notice the finish. Here are wraps, gowns, blouses, millinery and everything that delights the heart of milady.

"You think these look nice now. Come in Saturday and see these same things worn by our Living Models—your wife or best girl can then see just how it is going to look on her. I can tell you, my boy, the ladies are practical these days. They want to know how the garments are going to look before they buy them or wear them, Hence our living models.

"Come in Saturday afternoon or evening and hear some good orchestra music and tell your wife and her friends to come in and get acquainted with the New Daylight Leipsic Store." —Adv.

SHERIFF'S TEXAS VISIT EVENTFUL

Sheriff Jackson is growing feathers—cause why?—eating so many chickens prepared by relatives and old-time friends who are greeting him and his wife in their old home town, Stephensville, Texas.

It has been something like twenty-seven years since the congenial sheriff shook the dirt of Texas from his feet and hit the trail for California. He had not seen his father since leaving and the tour he and Mrs. Jackson are now taking was more for the purpose of seeing the old home town and visiting the father and other relatives than anything else.

In a letter to Miss Opal Davis, chief office deputy, Jackson says that he is at Stephensville and is having the time of his life.

"We are quite a show in this town," reads the letter, "and every one knew us by the time we arrived. We have had more invitations out to dinner than we could fill in a month. My father is getting along very well. The people here tell me that my visit is the best medicine that he has had for a long time. We are going out to a chicken dinner today. I think I have feathers on me already. Tell the boys that I will eat a piece of chicken for each one of them—that will help some."

The travelers left Stephensville Tuesday for Denton, where they will remain until Sunday, when they will go to Houston and Galveston for a few days and then on to San Antonio.

ANITA STEWART in "THE GIRL PHILIPPA"

This picture will be shown at the West End Theater, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

AMUSEMENTS

Eugene Moore, who directed Jeanne Eagels in "The World and the Woman," a Pathe Gold Rooster Play, produced by Thanhouser, and to be shown at Clune's Theater on Saturday, studied to be a minister at the divinity school at Harvard, but gave up that career to become an actor.

Mr. Moore was born in Annapolis Valley, Nova Scotia, the land of Evangeline, but lived most of his early life in Boston.

Greatly interested in Shakespeare, Mr. Moore studied big things at the start, and his first application for a position on the stage was made to Thomas W. Keene. He was given a small part and quickly made a reputation as a Shakespearian actor, appearing with John McCullough, Frederick Warde, Louis James and Stuart Robson.

He left the classical drama and was starred for five years in Augustus Thomas' "The Burglar." He then joined the Frohman "Diplomacy" company.

After several seasons in stock, Edwin Thanhouser sent for Mr. Moore, when the Thanhouser Film Corporation was just getting under way, and made him a director. Mr. Moore has directed some of the best productions that the Thanhouser company has released.

At the Temple

—The new bill which opened last night, and continues tonight and tomorrow, proved to be one of the most interesting of the season. The Athon Company in the quaint comedy drama "The Girl From Texas," had the audience with them right from the start. The story is happily blended with striking situations, and good, wholesome comedy; and the little play made one huge hit.

Clifford Lancaster, as Jeremiah Dobbs, distinguished himself as a character comedian of the first rank, and had no trouble in keeping his listeners in an uproar of laughter. To look at him in this character is to laugh, and to hear him speak is the signal for roars of fun. Effie Johnson, as "Texas," was winsome in the soubrette role, and made a very sweet little girl of the south. Robert Athon as Jim Tracy, the big-hearted Oregon miner, gave a splendid rendition of the character, while Clayton Smyth, as the newly-wed, got all out of the part there was in it. The scenes of this playlet are laid up in the mountains of Oregon, and there is an air of the big interior country of Oregon about the production, that makes it exceedingly refreshing.

Enid Bennett in the five-reel Triangle feature, "The Little Brother," attracted favorable comment. The picture is founded on the "Big Brother" movement throughout the country, and if for no other reason, should prove a big winner. It is a dandy story, full of thrills and excitement, with plenty of heart interest thrown in. The Triangle Comedy Players in "A Self Made Hero," were funny in the extreme, and got bunches of laughs.

Tonight the choice of any $10 dress pattern in the Reinhaus department store, will be given to the lucky woman.—Adv.

Enid Bennett, in Triangle Play, "The Little Brother."

SENATOR RUSH TO ASK TO BE EXCUSED FROM ROMINGER BILL VOTE

SACRAMENTO, Mar. 22.—Senator Ben Rush of Suisun says he will ask to be excused from voting on the Rominger anti-saloon, anti-whiskey bill. Senator Rush is in a peculiar position. The wine men in one of the counties which he represents, are in favor of the bill and those of another county are against it. Furthermore, Rush himself doesn't believe in any kind of booze or anti-booze legislation by the Legislature—he thinks it is a matter for the people to decide.

DRINK HOT TEA FOR A BAD COLD

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Thee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once.

It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless.—Advertisement.

JACKMAN TO BE TRIED APRIL 4; HUNTINGTON IS FINED $5

Justice Cox Discharges Defendant In Case of Heffern vs. Gordon

The cause of the trouble and the actions of both parties in the recent unpleasantness between S. J. Jackman and E. G. Huntington will be told in Justice Cox's court on Wednesday, April 4, at 9 o'clock in the morning. Jackman was arraigned this morning and entered a plea of not guilty to the charge of disturbing the peace. His attorneys, H. J. Forgy and S. M. Reinhaus, asked for a jury trial. E. G. Huntington pleaded guilty to a charge of disturbing the peace and was fined $5, which was paid.

Not Guilty

Justice Cox yesterday afternoon heard the case of W. C. Heffern vs. G. M. Gordon and discharged the defendant. The parties to the suit are oil men engaged in operations near Fullerton and recently had trouble which resulted in Heffern filing a complaint charging Gordon with disturbing the peace.

CIVIL SERVICE BOARD ALARMED BY REPEATED ATTACKS ON SERVICE

SACRAMENTO, March 23—Repeated attacks on the civil service system are alarming the civil service commissioners. Already a bill has been passed in the assembly exempting attaches of the supreme and appellate courts from civil service and today reports by the assembly committee recommending that two other bills carrying attacks on the system be passed, have caused an additional stir. One is the Ryan bill providing that employes on the San Francisco waterfront shall have permanent positions and shall not be subject to the civil service tests after three months of service. The other is a bill by Lyon also providing for exemptions.

AT THE COURTHOUSE

STEPFATHER IS CLEARING BOY'S MONEY TANGLE

With his step-father here on the ground, the financial difficulties of Nelson J. Taylor are being rapidly cleared. Taylor is the young man arrested for the issuance of an insufficient fund check to Layton brothers in payment for an automobile. He was arrested a few days following his marriage in San Diego to a Santa Ana girl.

The step-father is C. R. Lisle of Echo, Ore., and he arrived here yesterday. Through statements from him and correspondence with the bank at Echo upon which the check was drawn, District Attorney West has found that had the check been presented at the bank a day or two later it would have been honored. A sum more than sufficient to take care of the $275 check was deposited to his credit by his mother a day or two after the check was received there and before she knew of his trouble here. Her sickness in a measure was responsible for the difficulties of the young man.

Given Allowance

Judge Cole, sitting for Judge West, today made an order in the case of the suit of Mrs. Charles B. Halley against her husband, allowing her $5 per week for support, $50 attorney's fees and $10 court costs. She is asking for separate maintenance.

Arrested in San Diego

J. W. Hasty, who issued a no-fund check to B. H. Blanchard of this city on the 13th inst., has been arrested in San Diego for issuing similar checks there. The check cashed by Blanchard was for $5 and was drawn on the California National Bank. The paper floated at San Diego was also drawn on the local bank.

Inheritance Tax

Mary Gillett is the only heir of the late H. Y. Ernst who will have to pay a tax on the amount inherited from her father's estate, according to the report of Inheritance Tax Appraiser, J. N. Anderson. She received $18,-3s8.48, of which sum $10,000 is exempted from the tax. She will pay $83.58. Henry L. Ernst and Reca L. Flood and Emma L. Wright, son and daughters, each received $6300, having no tax to pay because the sums are less than the exemption.

Final Decree

A final decree of divorce was today issued to Pymintary Kelley, divorcing her from Dan R. Kelley. She was awarded the custody of the children, Verlie and Thelma.

Appointed Administratrix

Annie McGaffey was today appointed administratrix of the estate of E. W. McGaffey, who died December 13, 1915.

Want Order Vacated

A. W. Rutan and Clyde Bishop, attorneys for J. P. Vrydagh in the divorce action brought against him by his wife, have given the plaintiff and her attorney notice that on April 30, in Department One of the Superior Court, they will move the court to vacate an order made on the 16th inst. In the order the defendant was directed to pay the plaintiff $15 per week pending trial of the case, house rent, $50 court costs and $250 attorneys' fees.

Divorce Suit

Mardula James has filed suit for divorce from O. G. James. Failure to provide is the charge. Morris M. Cain is attorney for plaintiff.

Power of Attorney

The St. Helens Petroleum Company (limited) of London, which has big interests in the state, today filed a notice with the county clerk, showing that W. W. Orcutt, Roscoe W. Stephens and Chas. Brader have been given full power of management of the California interests of the company.

To Become Citizens

The Kaiser has lost three subjects here in the past two days through their filing petitions for naturalization. The petitioners are Karl Alfred Moench, 38, Placentia farmer, who was born in Saxony, Germany, October 28, 1878, and came to the United States in 1913, landing at Galveston, Texas, January 9 of that year; Karl Kohl, 29, Fullerton nurseryman, born in Frankfurt, Germany, and arrived at New York January 21, 1905; Adolph Frederick Plegel, Anaheim farmer, born Berlin, Germany, December 3, 1887, and arrived at New York December 14, 1892.

McPherson Gets Judgment

Judge Thomas yesterday concluded hearing the two cases of S. E. McPherson of Orange against the Great Western Milling Company of Los Angeles and gave judgment for the plaintiff. Decision as to the amount will be given later. The suit resulted from the conduct of the Orange Supply Company at Orange by McPherson. The business was conducted by McPherson as manager and part owner with the defendant company. Alleging that the manager had overdrawn his account, the defendant company a year and a half ago took possession of the business and equipment. McPherson brought suit to recover possession of the equipment and for damages.

Will Appraise Estate

J. N. Anderson has been appointed apraiser of the estate of Lester L. West deceased, valued at $3,014.56.

For Letters of Administration

Matthew L. Good has applied for letters of administration on the estate of his father, Matthew M. Good, foreman for the Birch Oil Company, who died at Brea on the 14th of this month. The estate is valued at $15,762.22. The petitioner, aged 26, Rita C. Good, aged 24, and Anna V. Good, 21, are named as the next of kin. Deceased left no will.

METROPOLITAN TENOR IGNORES OPERA CALL FROM KAISER WILHELM

NEW YORK, Mar. 23—Karl Edward Heinrich Jorn, German tenor of the Metropolitan Opera here, will not respond to Kaiser Wilhelm's personal request that he return to Berlin and join the Royal Opera there. Instead he will go before the United States court here next week and ask for his final American citizenship papers, he said today.

"It is true," said Jorn, "that I have received a call from the Royal Opera, sent at the Kaiser's personal request, but I shall not respond to it. I am an American at heart and I want to become one in fact. I have my first and second papers and hope to get my final ones next week." Jorn's wife and children are still in Berlin.

COREOPSIS CLUB MEMBERS ARE ENTERTAINED

Busy Fingers Fly Wednesday At Home of Mrs. Floyd Turner

TUSTIN, March 23—The members of the Coreopsis Club were enjoyably entertained last Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. Floyd Turner, at her home on San Juan street. There was a full attendance of members and several guests and all were busily engaged with needlework, with which the afternoon passed in pleasant chat.

Lilies and purple iris, with other Easter decorations tastefully arranged throughout the pleasant rooms, were suggestive of the springtime.

When the ladies were invited to the dining room they were seated at a snowy table upon which little rabbits disported themselves and place cards were tiny nests filled with Easter eggs. Fragrant heliotrope filled a basket in the center of the table, which was finished with an airy table bow. Spanish beans, hot buns, pickles, coffee and pie a la mode were served.

Those present were Mrs. Charles Lambert, Mrs. Ed Smith, Mrs. Alton Alderman, Mrs. Charles Morton, Mrs. Claud Norton, Mrs. Fenlon Matthews, Mrs. H. E. Matthews, Mrs. Hart, Mrs. Jack King and Mrs. Ann Swartz. The guests were Mrs. Quincy Page and Mrs. Forest Collar.

The meeting was one of the most interesting and they all expressed a desire to meet with their teacher again.

The home was beautifully decorated with bridal wreath and smilax. A green and white color scheme throughout was suggestive of St. Patrick's day. The feathery green and white made beautiful decorations for the table. Pretty shamrock-shaped boxes filled with candy were served to each guest, with delicious ice cream and cake.

Jolly games on the outside were followed by music indoors. The guests were Jean Winslow, Lois Sweet, Gladys Swarthout, Pauline Carnahan and Ramona Dunnigan from Santa Ana, Lillian Dowell, Cinderella and Lenora Phinney, Lois Day, Helen Elizabeth McDougal, Nellie Ware, Helen Pollard, Laurene Sauers, Irene Young, and the Sixth grade teacher, Miss Grace Casner.

ALL-DAY MEETING

The all-day meeting of the Presbyterian Missionary Society held Thursday at the church was attended by a goodly number of those who are deeply interested in the work of Presbyterian missions throughout the world. The recent Presbyterial annual meeting in Los Angeles had been attended by a number of the members and they received such encouragement and inspiration that they resolved to give those a chance to hear some of the good things in an all-day meeting and the morning was given up to these reports.

The church had been artistically decorated for the occasion, Mrs. Sherman Stevens taking charge of that part of the work. A graceful arrangement of pink Cherokee roses filling a large jardiniere and trailing over the pedestal on one side of the rostrum, was in beautiful contrast to straight sprays of peach blossoms on the other and bridal wreath, featthery green and potted plants added to the inviting effect.

About thirty-five of those present stayed at the church at noon and were prepared each with a light lunch. They gathered around a table in the social room and were served with hot tea and coffee. The table was beautified by the decorating committee with little old-fashioned nosegays of various flowers, each bouquet tied with pink tulle.

The meeting resumed its afternoon session at 1:30, the president, Mrs. P. H. Ebel, presiding. Several missionary hymns were sung and the attendance was considerably augmented by those coming in for the afternoon.

Reports were furnished by Mrs. T. R. Overton.

A song by Mrs. James S. Rice, "We come to the close of another year," sung to the music of "A Perfect Day," added very much to the real enjoyment of the afternoon. She was accompanied by Mrs. S. W. Nau.

The remainder of the afternoon was given over to a talk on Japan by Rev. Marsh of Fullerton. His address was illustrated by a costume and other objects of household interest about Japan. He held the closest attention of his hearers and all seemed to regret the close.

RED HILL JAUNT IS DELIGHT FOR 4TH GRADERS

Teachers Accompany Charges On Charming Outing Tuesday Afternoon

TUSTIN, March 23.—No jaunts or journeys this week around Tustin have caused more delightful thrills than that taken all together by the third and fourth grade pupils of the Grammar school last Tuesday afternoon to Red Hill, accompanied by their teachers, Miss Osborne and Miss Hight, and Mrs. T. R. Overton. They began with the novelty of walking down the road in a body and continued all the way to the hill, which was finally reached.

Everybody had a lunch and it surely was good to sit down and eat. Not until this was finished was the landscape much noticed. Then came the hill climb and the cave was explored. All the lovely afternoon was filled with delightful occurrences. Not until 7 o'clock p. m., was the journey home consummated.

See the Tustin Mercantile advertisement for dry goods and shoe specials.

SHATTO IMPROVES HIS HOME BY PAINTING

TUSTIN, March 23—W. L. Shatto is adding to the good looks of his substantial home by a new coat of paint of pearl gray and white. He has also added a graceful pergola on the Second street side and a lattice house for potted plants. Mrs. Shatto is gradually adding to her collection of pretty begonias and other odd and rare plants.

Why "An-uric" is an INSURANCE Against Sudden Death!

SUFFERERS FROM BACKACHE, RHEUMATISM AND KIDNEY TROUBLE.

Before an Insurance Company will take a risk on your life the examining physician will test the urine and report whether you are a good risk. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog, you suffer from backache, sick-headache, dizzy spells, or the twinges and pains of lumbago, rheumatism and gout. The urine is often cloudy, full of sediment; channels often get sore and sleep is disturbed two or three times a night. This is the time you should consult some physician of wide experience—such as Dr. Pierce, of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y. Send him 10 cents for sample package of his new discovery—"An-uric." Write him your symptoms and send a sample of urine for test. Experience has taught Dr. Pierce that "An-uric" is the most powerful agent in dissolving uric acid, as hot water melts sugar, besides being absolutely harmless and is endowed with other properties, for it preserves the kidneys in a healthy condition by thoroughly cleansing them. Being so many times more active than lithia, it clears the heart valves of any sandy substances which may clog them and checks the degeneration of the blood-vessels, as well as regulating blood pressure. "An-uric" is a regular insurance and life-saver for all big meat eaters and those who deposit lime-salts in their joints. It can now be obtained of the best druggists in 50-cent packages.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets for the liver and bowels have been favorably known for nearly 50 years.

LICORICE BEING GROWN, SHIPPED AT G. GROVE

GARDEN GROVE, Mar. 23.—An industry worthy of mention and one of great interest is that of licorice growing. While the U. S. Bureau of Agriculture does not advise planting it, owing to it being impossible ever to eradicate it, when, under favorable conditions for growth and harvesting it yields a crop it is well worth marketing. J. N. Swope has been harvesting the root for some time near the Grove and from half an acre on the Palma place he had 12,086 pounds, which he shipped by express to Camden, N. J. From the Griswell half-acre, 14,000 pounds were harvested and from the Buck place 4000 pounds.

A peculiar feature in the growth of licorice is that the roots do not penetrate the soil below the surface water and in some fields it was only necessary to plow once for harvesting, while in others it was necessary to plow them with a road grader to move the dirt aside, and plow again to a depth of three feet. It takes about five years for the growth to be worth harvesting.

The licorice was planted on these three places by Mr. Griswell about forty years ago. It grows like alfalfa.

'ROYAL HELPERS' ARE ENTERTAINED

GARDEN GROVE, Mar. 23. Mrs. Warren A. Wheeler and Mrs. Nelson Cook were hostesses to the Royal Helpers' class party—Prof. S. R. Fitz, teacher—at the home of Mrs. Wheeler, Tuesday night. It was the regular once-a-month meeting and was a Saint Patrick's party, fifty-one guests being present. The house was tastefully decorated with green crepe paper and baskets filled with myrtle and shamrock hung about the rooms. After the regular business meeting, conducted by the class president, Mrs. George R. Reyburn, a chairman for the evening was elected, George R. Reyburn drawing the honor. A very interesting program was then given, consisting of songs by the crowd, reading by Mrs. C. Crosby, which was pleasingly rendered; a vocal duet by Mrs. O. O. Young and Mrs. John Steele. The meeting was then turned over to Dr. O. O. Young, who gave a very instructive drill in Rules of Order. Dr. Young proved himself thoroughly conversant with the leading authorities.

The remaining part of the evening was spent in parlor games and all became greatly enthused and a fitting close to the evening's enjoyment was most delicious refreshments served by the charming hostesses. The April meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Frank Anderson.

A most interesting report of the national convention at Indianapolis was read. The local union has made its efforts along prohibition lines felt in many ways during the past year and every effort put forth will reap its reward. 'CASCARETS' BEST IF HEADACHY, BILIOUS, SICK, CONSTIPATED

Best for Liver and Bowels, Bad Breath, Bad Colds, Sour Stomach

Get a 10-cent box.

Sick headache, biliousness, coated tongue, head and nose clogged up with a cold—always trace this to a torpid liver; delayed, fermenting food in the bowels or sour, gassy stomach.

Poisonous matter clogged in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, throbbing, sickening headache.

Cascarets immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested food and foul gases, takes the excess bile from the liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist means your head clear, stomach sweet, breath right, complexion rosy and your liver and bowels regular for months.—Advertisement.

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

All grades of bakers' flour have been raised 20 cents a barrel, and some of the inferior grades of the family article have also been advanced a like amount. It had been expected for some time that values would be boosted to higher levels, although the advances that have just been made do not represent an unreasonable rise when the situation in the primary wheat centers is concerned. If this country goes to war with Germany it will need vast supplies of grain for its troops, and wheat prices are liable to reach heights never before dreamed of.

Flour is bound to go higher in the near future, as stocks of wheat are so low in the hands of millers that every advance in the primary wheat market is followed by a raise in the raw material that the millers have to have in order to manufacture their product.

Feed lines are very irregular. Some kinds have been advanced and others declined. Among the former are yellow and white corn, cracked corn, Egyptian corn, bran, shorts and milo maize. Barley, on the contrary, is down 5 cents a hundred pounds, this decline affecting rolled barley, recleaned barley, and ground barley meal. Dealers in this city declare that the demand for feeds by ranchers and poultry men is heavier than for some time past, notwithstanding the higher quotations being asked.

WOMAN SICK TWO YEARS

Could Do No Work. Now Strong as a Man.

Chicago, Ill.—"For about two years I suffered from a female trouble so I was unable to walk or do any of my own work. I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the newspapers and determined to try it. It brought almost immediate relief. My weakness has entirely disappeared and I never had better health. I weigh 165 pounds and am as strong as a man. I think money is well spent which purchases Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. Jos. O'Bryan, 1755 Newport Ave., Chicago, Ill.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled. It may be used with perfect confidence by women who suffer from displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, and nervous prostration. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the standard remedy for female ills.

BREAKING BOLT SAVES WOMAN INJURY

WESTMINSTER, March 23—As Mrs. Clara Hagen was returning from Santa Ana Sunday, where she attended church, the iron clasp that holds the shaft to the buggy on the left side, broke just before reaching the residence of L. E. Rich. The horse, becoming frightened, started to run and turned into the side of the road, turning around a cow, breaking the iron holding the other shaft. This freed the horse from the buggy, leaving Mrs. Hagen sitting in the buggy unhurt, but badly frightened.

The horse was caught by Forester Rich and Mrs. Hagen was taken home by auto. Mr. Hagen afterward brought theb uggy home by hand after tying a rope to it in place of shafts.

EASTER SUNDAY MAY BE WITHOUT FASHION SHOW FEATURE AT S. F.

SAN FRANCISCO, Mar. 22.—Easter Sunday, 1917, will be remarkable for the fact that it's observance in San Francisco churches will not consist of a fashion show for the main attraction and divine services as an excuse, if a movement started in Chicago and taken up in San Francisco is carried out.

A coterie of girl members of a Christian Endeavor Society in Chicago started the idea when they decided to keep their fancy Easter bonets and their new spring clothes in the dark recesses of the family trunk on Easter day and to devote themselves to the spiritual and not the decidedly material form of worship. In San Francisco the Rev. J. H. Barney of the California street church made the first step when he requested that the choir of his church, which is to render elaborate Easter music, come in simple raiment, just to set a good example for the congregation

Now numerous ministers and church leaders have endorsed the idea and it looks like the day when Easter bonnets and Easter eggs vied with each other for first place on Easter Sunday, have gone.
